3. All students at the course level will demonstrate the Writing Process (Inventing, Drafting, Revising, Editing, and Proofreading) at 85% proficiency as measured by the DWRI Writing Process Rubric. EEO’s—1, 2 and CCIC’s—2.

Entry Competencies

As a DWRI 0093 student, you should
1. Demonstrate a basic awareness of everyday English usage.
2. Communicate your thoughts through a series of sentences that demonstrate a basic awareness of everyday English usage.
3. Express yourself well enough verbally to be understood by classmates and the instructor.
4. Understand your instructor’s lectures and spoken classroom directions.
5. Read and understand written English (textbooks, handouts, and tests).
6. Produce legible work.
7. Learn and use word processing.

Developmental Writing 0093 Course Objectives

1. The student will examine a variety of professional and student writings. (This objective satisfies CCIC 1-3 and EE0 4-5). To demonstrate this ability students will
   • recognize authors’ organizational strategies, biases, and purposes,
   • examine authors’ use of language, and
   • identify strengths/weaknesses of each writing.

2. The student will understand how to use word processing to facilitate the writing process. (This objective satisfies CCIC 1-4 and EEO 4-5.) At a minimum, students will know how to
   • create documents,
   • save documents,
   • cut and paste within documents,
   • computer edit documents, and
   • print documents.

3. The student will write well-developed and well organized essays that support effective thesis statements (This objective satisfies EEOs 1 and 5 and CCIC 2).

4. The student will apply the writing process to develop essays that follow a variety of modes for essay development. This objective satisfies EEOs 1, 3, 4, and 5 and ICs 2 and four.)

Last revised Dec-12
5. The student will revise sentences for variety and verb consistency. This objective satisfies CCICs 2 and 4.

6. The student will revise sentences for variety and verb consistency. This objective satisfies CCICs 2 and 4.

7. The student will demonstrate his/her analytical reading skills. This objective satisfies EEO 4 and CCICs 1 and 3.

Exams and Assignments

The student will write five papers (approximately 400+ words) for a specific purpose (expressive, informative, and/or persuasive) and for a specific audience, using patterns of organization based on rhetorical techniques learned during the semester. In addition, two essays, the mid-term essay and the final exam essay will each be written in class on an unannounced topic and will be evaluated by the instructor. The following table lists the major assignments, a description of each, required readings, and due date for each assignment:

See appendix for information.

Note: Students must pass the final exam (essay) and must receive C or better for the class in order to advance to the next course.

Department of English Policies for Student Success

Attendance Policy

The correlation between attendance and success in the course is strong because class participation is part of the learning process and can affect your final course grade. You are expected to arrive on time for all classes. If you miss all or part of a class, you should not expect your professor to repeat a lecture given during your absence. Check Appendix D for your professor’s policy because some professors deduct points when students miss class or are late to class. Absences and/or tardiness can affect the grade you earn in this course.

Policy on Late Papers

You are expected to hand in papers on time. Your professor is not required to accept late papers, and no late paper will be considered for full credit unless you discuss with your professor why the paper will be late prior to its due date. See appendix for more information.

Student Responsibilities

1. Attend all classes.
2. Read the textbook selections that are assigned and be prepared to discuss them.
3. Hand assignments in on time and in the format designated by your professor.
4. Ask for help when needed.
5. Do not expect your professor to repeat a lecture given during an absence.
   Visit the Writing Center (A-332) or meet with your professor when you need help or when you are directed to do so by your professor.

Classroom Etiquette

1. Follow your professor’s rules for acceptable classroom behavior.
2. Arrive on time.
3. Remain the entire time.
4. Turn off and put away all personal electronics.
5. Practice active listening (i.e., one voice at a time).
6. In short, treat your classmates and professor with respect.
Institutional Policies for Student Success

Academic Dishonesty

The Student Code of Conduct prohibits academic dishonesty and prescribes penalties for violations. According to this code, which is printed in the college catalog, "academic dishonesty," includes (but is not limited to) cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, plagiarism, and collusion.

Academic dishonesty may result in the following sanctions, including, but not limited to:

1. A grade of zero or a lowered grade on the assignment or course.
2. A reprimand.
3. Suspension from the college.

Notification of Absence because of Religious Holy Days

If you will be absent from class for the observance of a religious holiday, you must notify your professor in advance. You are required to complete any assignments or take any examinations you miss as a result of your absence within the time frame specified by your professor. Please refer to the Student Obligations section of the DCCCD catalog for more explanation.

See appendix for more information.

Requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act

North Lake College provides academic accommodations to students with disabilities, as defined under ADA law. It is the student's choice and responsibility to initiate any request for accommodations. If you are a student with a disability who requires such ADA accommodations, please contact North Lake College's Disability Services Office in person (A430) or by phone at 972-273-3165.

Stop before You Drop

If you enrolled in college-level courses for the first time in the fall of 2007, the Texas Education Code 51.907 allows you to drop no more than six courses during your entire undergraduate career unless the drop qualifies as an exception. The Counseling/Advising Center will give you more information about allowable exceptions.

Once you have accumulated six non-exempt drops, you cannot drop any other courses with a “W.” Therefore, you need to exercise caution when dropping courses in any Texas public institution of higher learning, including all seven of the Dallas County Community Colleges. More information is available at https://www1.dcccd.edu/6drop.

Last revised Dec-12
Drop Policy

If you are unable to complete this course, you must officially withdraw by Thursday, April 18, 2013. Withdrawing is a formal procedure which you must initiate; your professor cannot do it for you.

Financial Aid Statement

If you receive any form of financial aid, you should check with the Financial Aid Office prior to withdrawing from classes. Withdrawals may affect your eligibility to receive further aid and could require you to repay the financial aid for this semester. If you fail to attend or participate after the drop date, you are also subject to this policy.

Counseling Services

If you are a currently enrolled student, you are eligible for free counseling services. You may schedule an appointment by calling 972-273-3333 or going to A-311.

The Academic Skills Center (ASC, Room A-332)

The ASC is designed to provide assistance to students in the following areas:

- Labs for students enrolled in foreign language, Developmental Reading, and ESOL courses. One-on-one tutoring is available.

- The Writing Center can help students clarify writing tasks, understand instructors’ requirements, develop and organize papers, explore revision options, detect grammar and punctuation errors, and properly use and document sources. Rather than merely editing or "fixing" papers, tutors focus on helping students develop and improve their writing skills.

- The Online Writing Lab (OWL) allows students to submit papers to our writing tutors electronically and get feedback within 24-72 hours. The OWL can be accessed through eCampus. After logging on to eCampus, click on the Community Tab at the top. Type “Owl” in the search field and click “Go.” Next, click on the double drop-down arrows next to “NLC-OWL2,” and then click on “Enroll.” Once enrolled, students can receive services from the OWL.

For more information or to schedule a tutoring appointment, come by A-332 or call 972-273-3089.

Exemplary Educational Objectives

The following Exemplary Educational Objectives have been identified by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board and the DCCCD as important objectives to be developed and enhanced by specific learning activities in English composition courses:

DWRI 0093 - Spring 2013

Instructor: Dr. Suzanne Gitonga
Office: K315   Phone: 972-273-3491
E-mail address: sgitonga@dccc.edu
Office hours: MW 7-8 am; TuTh 7-8 am, 11-11:30 am; F by appointment

Attendance: You should plan to be in class regularly. Some assignments require that you work in class with the teacher and classmates. You should sign in every day. You should turn in assignments one at a time and wait for feedback on each one.

Late Essays: I will accept late essays with no penalty in grade if they are turned in at the beginning of the next regular class meeting. I will not accept them any later than that day. Other class assignments such as Exercises and Readings have no late day. Assignments and essays can be turned in only during class time unless prior arrangements have been made.

Classwork: You will receive credit for Exercises and Reading questions. These are fairly brief and all preparation for the essays. Extra credit is possible for missed work. The course is organized in 5 units. You should submit work in the listed order, one assignment at a time, until the deadline for the unit. No work for a unit will be accepted after the unit deadline.

Class Behavior: Cell phones, food, drink, and music devices are not allowed in class. Please do not interrupt others who are working. If you have questions, ask the instructor.

Exams: The midterm and final exams are essays written in class on unannounced topics. You will receive plenty of preparation and practice for doing these. No make-up exams will be given.

Essays: You are required to write a minimum of five graded essays for the course. These will be about 400-600 words long, with a clear thesis and organization and a minimum of grammatical and mechanical errors. You can arrange to do extra essays and drop the lowest grades.

Course Grade: Your course grade will offer a variety of ways in which you can show your skills.
