Course Description:
PHIL 2306 Ethics (3) This is a Texas Common Course Number.
Consideration of what constitutes a good and a moral life. Using classical and contemporary theories, students will weigh such ingredients as pleasure, duty, power, and love as they apply to current issues of daily living. Students may consider ethical problems in business, law, and medicine. (3 Lec.) Coordinating Board Academic Approval Number 3801015312

Prerequisite: Developmental Reading 0093 or English as a Second Language (ESOL) 0044 or have met the Texas Success Initiative (TSI) standard in Reading.

Goals:
- Introduce major philosophers and moral controversies
- Develop some familiarity with the philosophical writings on which they are based
- Foster a lifelong appreciation for philosophical thinking and moral reasoning

As a result of successfully completing this course, students will be able to:
- Identify the major moral theories and the philosophers who hold them.
- Discuss moral issues using critical thinking skills and reasoned judgments
- Correctly apply moral theories to various moral issues
- Provide objections and responses to various views and theories in ethics

Structure:
You never need to come to campus. You do not need to be online at any particular time or on any particular day; you just need to meet the deadlines. Students will read 10 chapters in the textbook. You will take practice quizzes and a test corresponding to each chapter. All tests are taken online and are timed. They are open book. Students may prepare for the online tests by taking a series of practice quizzes, also available online, as well as through dialogue with the instructor and other students.
on the Discussion Board. The practice quizzes do not affect your grade. Discussion is not required or graded. There is also a final term paper, which can be over any chapter (not just assigned ones).

Requirements:
As a largely self-paced course, students are mostly free to organize their time as they see fit. You may complete the course as quickly as you like. There are a number of deadlines, however.

- If you are receiving Financial Aid grants or loans and are enrolled in a Distance Learning class, you must show participation in this class prior to the certification date. See the deadlines button.
- All work must be done through eCampus, including the submission of the term paper. Emailed papers will not be accepted.
- You will need a password for the orientation quiz, and if applicable the ch. 1 retest. See those areas for explanations of how to get the passwords.

The book consists of 9 chapters on moral theory, and 11 chapters on applied ethical issues. You will read the first five chapters on moral theory, and then you will choose 5 additional chapters from ch 10-20 on applied ethical issues. That makes a total of 10 chapters. For each chapter, you will have 3 "free" practice quizzes which do not count for or against your grade although they show up in the gradebook, and 1 test worth 70 pts. $70 \times 10 = 700$. You will also have a term paper worth 200 points. $700 + 200 = 900$ = total points for the course. $810 = A$, $720 = B$, $630 = C$, $540 = D$, $539$ or less = F. In order to improve your final score, you may also choose to do up to 2 extra chapters on applied ethics (from ch 10 through 20), in which case I will drop your lowest (or 2 lowest, if you do 2 chapters) test scores. Doing the extra chapter or chapters cannot hurt your grade in any way. Note that the extra chapters will temporarily "inflate" the number of total points shown in the gradebook UNTIL I drop the lowest test score (or two lowest test scores) by turning them into zeroes. If you do an extra chapter or two, don't rely on the total points unless you deduct the two lowest scores, or unless I've already turned them into zeroes.

Academic Honesty Statement:
Scholastic dishonesty is a violation of the Code of Student Conduct. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating on a test, plagiarism, and collusion.

As a college student, you are considered a responsible adult. Your enrollment indicates acceptance of the DCCCD Code of Student Conduct, published in the DCCCD Catalog at http://www1.dcccd.edu/cat0506/ss/code.cfm

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating on tests, plagiarism and collusion. Cheating includes copying from another student’s test or homework paper, using materials not authorized, collaborating with or seeking aid from another student during a test, knowingly using, buying, selling, stealing, or soliciting the contents of an unadministered test, and substituting for another person to take a test. Plagiarism is the appropriating, buying, receiving as a gift, or obtaining by any means another’s work and the unacknowledged submission or incorporation of it in one’s own written work. Collusion is the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing written work for fulfillment of course requirements. Academic dishonesty is a serious offense in college. You can be given a failing grade on an assignment or test, can be failed for the class, or you can even be suspended from college.

In this course, any instance of academic dishonesty will result in a grade of 0 for the assignment. While such instance may result in a course grade of F, additional academic dishonesty will result in a course grade of F. If you have questions about what constitutes academic dishonesty, see the term paper instructions, the Student Handbook at www.dcccd.edu, and/or ask me for clarification.

In this course, any instance of academic dishonesty will result in, at best, a grade of 0 for the assignment. While such instance may result in a course grade of F, additional academic dishonesty will result in a course grade of F. Flagrant plagiarism may result in a 10% reduction in your final course grade, along with a zero for the assignment. Flagrant plagiarism includes using an essays for sale or free essays site, or turning in someone else’s paper as your own. If you have questions about what constitutes academic dishonesty, see the term paper instructions, the Student Handbook at www.dcccd.edu and/or ask me for clarification.

ADA Statement:
Students with a physical, mental or learning disability who require accommodations should contact the college Disability Services Office in C237. Call 972.860.8348 or email efcdso@dcccd.edu. For more information: http://www.eastfieldcollege.edu/SSI/DSO/index.html

Religious Holidays:
Absences for observance of a religious holy day are excused. Notification of the absence must be given to the instructor in writing at least two weeks prior to the date of the holy day. A student whose absence is excused to observe a religious holy day is allowed to contract with the instructor to take a make-up examination or complete an assignment within at a mutually agreed upon time after the absence.

Withdrawal Policy:
If you are unable to complete this course, it is your responsibility to withdraw formally. The withdrawal request must be received in the Registrar’s Office by the date listed in your online classroom under the Deadlines button. Failure to do so will result in your receiving a performance grade, usually an “F.” If you drop a class or withdraw from the college before the official drop/withdrawal deadline, you will receive a “W” (Withdraw) in each class dropped. For more information about drop deadlines, refer to the current printed Credit Class Schedule, contact the Admissions/Registrar’s Office at 972-860-7167 (Room C119), or contact the division office.

Stop Before You Drop:
For students who enrolled in college level courses for the first time in the fall of 2007, Texas Education Code 51.907 limits the number of courses a student may drop. You may drop no more than 6 courses during your entire undergraduate career unless the drop qualifies as an exception. Your campus counseling/advising center will give you more information on the allowable exceptions. Remember that once you have accumulated 6 non-exempt drops, you cannot drop any other courses with a “W”.
Therefore, please exercise caution when dropping courses in any Texas public institution of higher learning, including all seven of the Dallas County Community Colleges. For more information, you may access: https://www1.dcccd.edu/coursedrops

Financial Aid Statement for Distance Learning Classes:
If you are receiving Financial Aid grants or loans and are enrolled in a Distance Learning class, you must show participation in this class prior to the certification date by either e-mailing or contacting the instructor or logging on to eCampus. Do not drop or stop attending any class without consulting the Financial Aid Office. Changes in your enrollment level and failing grades may require that you repay financial aid funds.

Repeating This Course: (Third Attempt to Enroll in a Course)
Effective for Fall Semester 2005, the Dallas County Community Colleges will charge additional tuition to students registering the third or subsequent time for a course. All third and subsequent attempts of the majority of credit and Continuing Education/Workforce Training courses will result in additional tuition to be charged. Developmental Studies and some other courses will not be charged a higher tuition rate. Third attempts include courses taken at any of the Dallas County Community Colleges since the Fall 2002 Semester. See Third Attempt to Enroll in a Course at: http://www.dcccd.edu/thirdcourseattempt/
