Textbook:

Class Web Site:
You will be required to use the class web site which is on what we call eCampus. It uses the Blackboard platform which you may already know. Since this is an online course, the web site is obviously very important. You may access the site at http://ecampus.dcccd.edu or by clicking on the eCampus link from the DCCCD or Eastfield College home page. If you don’t have regular access to a good computer with high-speed service, the student computer lab is located in L-108 and there are several computers in the library. You can also find computers at public libraries.

Student Learning Outcomes
Upon successful completion of this course, students will:
1. Create an argument through the use of historical evidence.
2. Analyze and interpret primary and secondary sources.
3. Analyze the effects of historical, social, political, economic, cultural, and global forces on this period of United States history.

Evaluation Procedures:
The course is exclusively online and self-paced. You will take a 25 question multiple-choice test over the required chapters of the text at a time of your choosing. Remember, however, that this is 7 tests in 16 weeks. Procrastination is your worst enemy. Prior to taking the test, in addition to the available online study aids, you can discuss the material with fellow students on “Discussion Board.” I will be happy to participate in these discussions as appropriate.
In addition, here are other methods of test preparation:

- Practice Tests – questions similar to the actual test questions for drill and review. You can take any practice test as many times as you like.

- Form a study group and test each other on your knowledge.

By the end of the course (exact date under “Important Dates” below) you will submit a 1-2 page essay in which you answer a few questions about a short historical document you read. You can choose from several documents posted on eCampus. More information is also there.

You are asked to complete a brief “Student Survey of Instruction” during the latter part of the course. This is your opportunity to evaluate the course. (I don’t see the results until well after final grades are turned in.) Click on “Student Survey” on the Main Menu on the first page of the course web site.

Requirements

The course is self-paced, so you may organize your time as you see fit with two exceptions: 1) you should take each chapter test in sequence, and 2) all work must be completed by the date listed in “Important Dates” below, and on the website. If while taking a test, you lose the connection and are “kicked off,” email or call me immediately. I will have to reset the test before you can continue. Meanwhile you can continue to the next test in the event my response takes a few hours. I don’t work 24 hours per day, but I will make every effort to be prompt.

You will complete 7 chapter tests, and write three short essays. Instructions for these will be on eCampus.

Note that the Practice Test scores are NOT part of your course grade. But don't make the mistake of thinking they are not important. They are a key element in your preparation for the real tests.

You can always see your grades on the web site by clicking on “Tools,” then “My Grades.”

Course Outline:

The course is based on the textbook, thus the course outline is the text’s table of contents.

IMPORTANT DATES:

- Jan 20th – official beginning of this class. It may open early so that you can begin work and get a head start if you want.

- Feb. 2nd – official Certification Date (very important to students receiving Financial Aid). To be certified you MUST complete 2 Certification assignments by this date.

- Feb. 23rd – deadline for submitting Essay 1.
Apr. 6th – deadline for submitting Essay 2.

Apr. 16th – last date to drop and receive a “W” grade. See syllabus on the “Six Drop Rule.”

May 11th – deadline for submitting Essay 3.

May 14th – course ends; all work must be completed by this date.

Note that there are no individual deadlines for individual tests. It is your responsibility to manage your time for the course. I urge you to make a calendar with target dates for each test and the paper. Procrastination will be your worst enemy. If you wait until the end of the semester to cram in all or most of the work, you will not do your best and your grade will show it.

Obtaining Final Course Grades Using eConnect

Final Grade Reports are no longer mailed. Convenient access is available online at www.econnect.dcccd.edu. Use your identification number when you log onto eConnect, an online system developed by the DCCCD to provide you with timely information regarding your college record. Your grades will also be printed on your Student Advising Report, which is available in the Admissions Office.

Eastfield College Email Policy

Faculty and students must have and use a DCCCD account for all correspondence relating to academic coursework. For information on setting up a DCCCD student email account go to: http://www.dcccd.edu/netmail/home.html

Attendance Policy:

In an online course participation is the way you “attend.” You must login and take some action (e.g., do the "Getting Started" activities, taking a practice test, etc.) on the web site by the official Certification Date as listed above under “Important Dates” If you do not, I cannot certify your “attendance” and that may have negative consequences with any financial aid, scholarships, etc. that you may be expecting.

"W" DATE:
If you must withdraw from the course, be sure to do so formally by contacting the admissions office and filing the proper forms. See “Withdrawal Policy” and “Stop Before You Drop” below. The deadline for withdrawing is 4/16/15.

Financial Aid Statement

Students who are receiving any form of financial aid should check with the Financial Aid Office prior to withdrawing from classes. Withdrawals may affect your eligibility to receive further aid and could cause you to be in a position of repayment for the current semester. Students who fail to attend or participate after the drop date are also subject to this policy.

Financial Aid Statement for Distance Learning Classes

If you are receiving Financial Aid grants or loans and are enrolled in a Distance Learning class, you must show participation in this class prior to the certification date by either e-mailing or contacting the instructor or logging on to eCampus. Do not drop or stop attending any class without consulting the Financial Aid Office. Changes in your enrollment level and failing grades may require that you repay financial aid funds.

Repeating This Course: (Third Attempt to Enroll in a Course)

Effective for Fall Semester 2005, the Dallas County Community Colleges will charge additional tuition to students registering the third or subsequent time for a course. All third and subsequent attempts of the majority of credit and Continuing Education/Workforce Training courses will result in additional tuition to be charged. Developmental Studies and some other courses will not be charged a higher tuition rate. Third attempts include courses taken at any of the Dallas County Community Colleges since the Fall 2002 Semester. See Third Attempt to Enroll in a Course at: http://www.dcccd.edu/thirdcourseattempt/

Academic Honesty Statement
Scholastic dishonesty is a violation of the Code of Student Conduct. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating on a test, plagiarism, and collusion.
As a college student, you are considered a responsible adult. Your enrollment indicates acceptance of the DCCCD Code of Student Conduct published in the DCCCD Catalog at http://www1.dcccd.edu/cat0506/ss/code.cfm.

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating on tests, plagiarism and collusion. Cheating includes copying from another student’s test or homework paper, using materials not authorized, collaborating with or seeking aid from another student during a test, knowingly using, buying, selling, stealing, or soliciting the contents of an unadministered test, and substituting for another person to take a test. Plagiarism is the appropriating, buying, receiving as a gift, or obtaining by any means another’s work and the unacknowledged submission or incorporation of it in one’s own written work. Collusion is the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing written work for fulfillment of course requirements. Academic dishonesty is a serious offense in college. You can be given a failing grade on an assignment or test, can be failed for the class, or you can even be suspended from college.

Food and Drink Policy
Obviously this is not much of an issue in an online class. If you happen to be working on campus please observe the rules of the area where you are (computer lab, library, etc.).

ADA Statement
Students with a physical, mental or learning disability who require accommodations should contact the college Disability Services Office in C237. 972.860.8348 or email efcdso@dcccd.edu. For more information: http://www.eastfieldcollege.edu/SSI/DSO/index.html

Religious Holidays
Absences for observance of a religious holy day are excused. A student whose absence is excused to observe a religious holy day is allowed to contract with the instructor to take a make-up examination or complete an assignment within a reasonable time after the absence.

Withdrawal Policy
If you are unable to complete this course, it is your responsibility to withdraw formally. The withdrawal request must be received in the Registrar’s Office by the deadline listed above in “Important Dates.” Failure to do so will result in your receiving a performance grade, usually an “F.” If you drop a class or withdraw from the college before the official drop/withdrawal deadline, you will receive a “W” (Withdraw) in each class dropped. For more information about drop deadlines, refer to the current printed Credit Class Schedule, contact the Admissions/Registrar’s Office at 972-860-7167 (Room C119), or contact the division office.

STOP BEFORE YOU DROP
For students who enrolled in college level courses for the first time in the fall of 2007, Texas Education Code
51.907 limits the number of courses a student may drop. You may drop no more than 6 courses during your entire undergraduate career unless the drop qualifies as an exception. Your campus counseling/advising center will give you more information on the allowable exceptions. Remember that once you have accumulated 6 non-exempt drops, you cannot drop any other courses with a “W”. Therefore, please exercise caution when dropping courses in any Texas public institution of higher learning, including all seven of the Dallas County Community Colleges. For more information, you may access: https://www1.dcccd.edu/coursedrops

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA)
In compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), the College may release information classified as “directory information” to the general public without the written consent of the student. Directory information includes: (1) student name, (2) student address, (3) telephone numbers, (4) date and place of birth, (5) weight and height of members of athletic teams, (6) participation in officially recognized activities and sports, (7) dates of attendance, (8) educational institution most recently attended, and (9) other similar information, including major field of student and degrees and awards received. Students may protect their directory information at any time during the academic year. If no request is filed, directory information is released upon written inquiry. No telephone inquiries are acknowledged. No transcript or academic record is released without written consent from the student, except as specified by law.

Classroom Etiquette
By now you have probably guessed that I am using a standard form for the syllabus. This section is another that applies to the classroom more than to us. I only ask that you be pleasant and patient with your peers in your online discussions and with those dedicated folks at the help desk who rescue all of us repeatedly. Be especially patient with them when the system is acting up or near the end of the semester when they are bombarded by procrastinators who are making silly mistakes because they are in such a rush.

The instructor reserves the right to amend this syllabus as necessary.
