Course Guidelines

Grades in this class will be earned for the unit discussion board assignments, the unit tests, and one document analysis paper. Each test will count 1/5 of the final grade; and the average of all three discussion board grades and the 1302 Assessment will count 1/5 of the final grade.

Letter grades will be assigned based on the following standard scale:

- A: 90-100%
- B: 80-89%
- C: 70-79%
- D: 60-69%
- F: 0-59%

Unit Discussion Board Assignment

At the beginning of the first three units, students will be assigned to read chapters from the textbook as well as primary source materials from the reader. In order to earn the maximum number of points (100) for each unit, students will need to make a total of three quality posts. The first post will be an original, well-written, 500-1000 word summary of one of the assigned primary sources. Please note, there is a copy of a rudimentary worksheet found at the end of this syllabus that will help each student craft their initial analysis. The second and third posts do not need to be a formal as the first, but should be responses to other posts from members of the class. There is an absolute expectation on the part of the instructor that students will pull in material from their textbook and/or other sources as part of this discussion assignment.

So that everyone will have posts to which they can respond, the first posts will be due by the end of the 6th day of each unit (11:59pm). The remaining posts are due by the end of the day (11:59pm) on the same day as the unit test deadlines.

Grades for the discussion board will be based on the overall quality of the three posts and will be entered into the grade book after the conclusion of each unit.

Unit Test

Unit tests will only cover the material assigned for each unit. Students are responsible for pacing the assigned reading so they are prepared to take and submit the unit test by the deadline. Students will have 90 minutes to complete each test—at the end of 90 minutes, tests will automatically save and submit. Unit tests will become available on the first day of the unit and are due by the end of the day (11:59pm) on the last day of the unit.

Tests will typically follow this format:

- 40 multiple-choice questions (2 point each)
- 4 short answer (5 points each)

HIST 1302 Assessment / Document Analysis Paper

Information about the document analysis paper will be made available to the class members during Unit 4. This assignment will replace the discussion board assignment for Unit 4. The details about this assignment are dictated by the Brookhaven College History Department.
