Means of Assessment of Course Learning Outcomes

Your understanding of the course material and your grade will be determined as follows:

Chapter Assignments

You will complete and turn in assigned exercises from your textbook found under Assignments in Blackboard. These assignments will be checked for accuracy and graded using the following procedure

Developing Critical Thinking Skills
Student responses are based on opinion; however, -1 to -2 points is deducted if the response is too brief or too general. Thought should be given as to the likelihood of success related to each situation.

Using the Web
-2 points for omitting source of information--sources are checked
-2 points for any part of the assignment that is omitted

Applications
-10 points for not spell checking.
-5 points for form errors
-2 points for incorrect or omitted information where applicable

Overall Grading
-10 points for not spell checking documents
-5 points for incorrect formats for memos, letters, and reports
Any additional grading information will be included in each assignment as needed.

Tests

Each test is based on 100 points. A -1 point is deducted for each incorrect answer. All tests are online open-book tests.

International Project
This project is based on 150 points and is graded as follows:
- 10 points for each typo--for not spell checking
- 1 point for each punctuation or grammar error
- 10 points for omitting any part of the assignment
- 5 points for omitting sources of information--URLs must be included

The International Project is the common assessment activity for this course. This test is graded on a scale of 0-150 points

Scavenger Hunt (Technology Update)

Students are to visit a nearby computer store and research the latest computers and their features, software, peripherals, and other new products on the market. The purpose of this assignment is to bring the student up to date concerning advances in technology. The scavenger hunt is based on 100 points. There are 13 questions students must answer, each worth 7.7 points each.

Portfolio (Extra-Credit – 50 pts)

Students may develop a personal career portfolio for this class. Employment prospects today are very competitive, and students need an edge to place them at the top of this competitive market and a portfolio can make the difference. This document is designed to make it easy for students to display their best work and accomplishments. Employers and college admissions staff will use your completed portfolio to judge your academic ability, maturity, and motivation. Your portfolio, along with a personal interview, could help determine your future employment or your acceptance into a two- or four-year college. The portfolio should include the following:

- An appropriate three-ring notebook/binder
- Typed letter of introduction
- Typed resume
- Three (3) letters of recommendation
- Three (3) samples of your work
- An official college and/or high school transcript
- Copies of your personal interests and achievements

Your portfolio is to be electronically sent to your instructor. Any documents such as letters of recommendation, transcripts, certifications, etc., should be scanned and included in your portfolio.

The portfolio will be graded by a rubric. You will find a copy of the rubric online under Course Documents.

1430 X 80% = 1146 - 1286 = B
1430 X 70% = 1001 - 1145 = C
1430 X 60% = 858 - 1000 = D
857 & below = F

Exams and Assignments

There are 12 chapter assignments, 4 tests, 1 scavenger hunt (technology update), and 1 international project.

Students are to follow the Completion Schedule for due dates for all assignments. Work must be submitted on time. Five points will be deducted for each day an assignment is late. Should an emergency occur, contact your instructor immediately. Any computer problems are expected to be repaired promptly. Computer down time is not an acceptable excuse for late work.

Extra-Credit Opportunity (50 pts. Possible)

Discussion Forum Participation

Participation in the Discussion Forums is optional, but a great way to earn extra-credit points. It is also critical for maximizing your learning experiences in all distance-learning courses and you are encouraged to participate in the forums. In each course, you are required to be a part of an online community of learners who collectively interact, through discussion, to enhance and support the professional performance of each other. Part of your participation in the forums includes assessing the quality and quantity of your participation in each discussion forum.

Some characteristics we consider to be part of excellent discussion contributions are outlined below. Your facilitator will consider these characteristics when assessing the quality and level of your participation.

- You should submit your initial post(s) early in the session and your subsequent responses to the posts of other learners at timely intervals within the duration of the session. Keep in mind the goal is to have a dynamic discussion around the major content of the session that lasts throughout the entire session. You may respond to more than one student’s post as you like during the semester.

- Your posts and responses should be thorough and thoughtful. Just posting an "I agree" or "Good ideas" will not be considered adequate. Support your statement with examples, experiences, or references. You are encouraged to be brief — keep each post and response to one or two short paragraphs. Keep in mind that your fellow learners will be reading and responding to you, too.
- Make certain that in all your posts and responses you address the question, problem, or situation as presented for discussion. This does not mean you should not extend the topic, but do not stray from the topic.
- Discussions occur when there is dialogue. So, build upon the posts and responses of other learners to create discussion threads. Make sure you revisit the discussion forum and respond (if necessary) to what other learners have posted to your initial responses.
- When relevant, add to the discussion by including prior knowledge, work experiences, references, Web sites, resources, etc. (giving credit when appropriate).
- Your contributions to the discussions (posts and responses) should be complete and free of grammatical or structural errors.

The Discussion Forums under Discussion Board are your opportunities to earn extra-credit points. There are five questions to which you may respond and earn 6 points; then ten other questions worth 2 points each including your introduction. A total of 50 points is possible. First, you must post your response to each topic. Second, you must post one response to another student’s if any student has made a post. Sometimes in this class, the enrollment is low and students may not participate. In that case, if you correctly post your response to each topic, you will receive maximum points. However, if other classmates are participating you must respond to one of their posts.

This rubric will be used to assess your participation in each discussion forum in this course.

Discussion Forum Participation Rubric for Each Question

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Criteria</th>
<th>Unsatisfactory</th>
<th>Satisfactory</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
Given the above rubric, students could earn a maximum of 50 points. Total points will be added to the grade book at the end of the semester.

Student Contributions

Each student will spend three to five hours per week preparing for class. Participation is critical to student success in this class.

If you read, highlight, and summarize information from the text and make notes in the text margins, you will spend your study time efficiently and will be able to participate effectively as a class member. The assignments for each chapter are to be completed in one file, saved using your last name and chapter number (example: Shelton-Ch1), and sent to your instructor as an attachment to an email message unless otherwise directed. All forms are to be completed and sent separately as attachments to e-mail messages. Your assignment sheets under Assignments will explain how to submit any documents separately from your chapter.

Your contribution includes the following:
1. Be punctual in submitting assignments
2. Read the text
3. Complete assignments
4. Participate in activities and discussions
5. Complete tests on time
6. You do not have to contact your instructor each week for attendance purposes
7. Your weekly assignments will serve as your attendance in the class

Discipline/ Course/ Department/Policies

Attendance

Since this is an online course, your attendance will be taken based on your turning in assignments on time each week.

Class begins on January 26, 2015.

The last day of class is May 14, 2015.

The last day to withdraw from a class is April 20, 2015.

Late Work. All coursework is due according to the Completion Schedule and due by midnight each Sunday evening. A zero (0) will be recorded for all late work. In certain circumstances such as illness or work-related issues, work may be accepted late. The late work will be accepted only with a slip from the doctor or a supervisor’s verification when it is work-related.

INSTITUTIONAL POLICIES

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

The Student Code of Conduct prohibits academic dishonesty and prescribes penalties for violations. According to this code, which is printed in the college catalog, "academic dishonesty," includes (but is not limited to) cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, plagiarism, and collusion."

Academic dishonesty may result in the following sanctions, including, but not limited to:

1. A grade of zero or a lowered grade on the assignment or course

ADMINISTRATIVE WITHDRAWAL

Students with valid extenuating circumstances may be eligible for an administrative withdrawal by the Dean of the Division in which the course or courses are taught. An administrative withdrawal will not be awarded to students who simply fail to withdraw prior to the last day to receive a “W.” The request for an administrative withdrawal must be made in writing to the Dean of the Division with any supporting documentation attached. This must occur before the last official day of the semester.

DROP POLICY

If you are unable to complete this course, you must officially withdraw by Friday, November 14. Withdrawing is a formal procedure which you must initiate; your instructor cannot do it for you. All Dallas County Community Colleges charge a higher tuition rate to students registering the third time for a course. This rule applies to the majority of credit and Continuing Education/Workforce Training courses. Developmental Studies and some other courses are not charged a higher tuition rate. Third attempts include courses taken at any DCCCD college since the fall 2002 semester. For further information, go online to: http://www.DCCCD.edu/thirdcourseattempt.

STOP BEFORE YOU DROP

For students who enrolled in college level courses for the first time in the fall of 2007, Texas Education Code 51.907 limits the number of courses a student may drop. You may drop no more than 6 courses during your entire undergraduate career unless the drop qualifies as an exception. Your campus counseling/advising center will give you more information on the allowable exceptions. Remember that once you have accumulated 6 non-exempt drops, you cannot drop any other courses with a “W”. Therefore, please exercise caution when dropping courses in any Texas public institution of higher learning, including all seven of the Dallas County Community Colleges. For more information, you may access: https://www1.dcccd.edu/coursedrops

FINANCIAL AID STATEMENT

Students who are receiving any form of financial aid should check with the Financial Aid Office prior to withdrawing from classes. Withdrawals may affect your eligibility to receive further aid and could cause you to be in a position of repayment for the current semester. Students who fail to attend or participate are also subject to this policy.

To apply for financial aid in the DCCCD, students must complete FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) on the web at: http://www.fafsa.ed.gov
