WELCOME to our multidisciplinary exploration into the fascinating subject matter of HUMAN SEXUALITY. You are about to take a journey into the history, sociology, psychology, and biology of human sexuality. Human sexuality is an area of contradictions and complexities about which people often experience mixed feelings and fuzzy logic. We are embarking on a scholarly quest where we will invest the time and attention to develop a deeper and more comprehensive understanding of sexuality and its impact on our lives, interactions and relationships.

Catalogue Description: Topics include physiological, psychological and sociological aspects of human sexuality.
COURSE RATIONALE

The purpose of this course is to assist the student in his or her understanding of human sexuality. This would include an appreciation of different approaches to sexuality as well as an awareness of one’s own sexuality and its impact on overall adjustment to life.

Sexuality includes biological, psychological and sociological aspects. These areas will be delineated and then integrated to help the student formulate an accepting, healthy outlook on human sexuality. Exemplary Educational Objectives

1. To employ the appropriate methods, technologies and data that social & behavioral scientists use to investigate the human condition.

2. To use & critique alternative explanatory systems or theories.

3. To develop & communicate alternative explanations or solutions for contemporary social issues.

4. To identify & understand differences & commonalities within diverse cultures

Core Curriculum Intellectual Competencies

1. Reading--the ability to analyze and interpret a variety of printed materials--books, documents, and articles--above 12th grade level.
2. Critical Thinking--think and analyze at critical level.

Learning Outcomes
Upon successful completion of this course, students will:
1. Identify common myths of human sexual functioning.
2. Identify human sexual behaviors and sexual responses.
3. Explain the relationship between sexuality and developmental changes throughout the lifespan.
4. Describe the causes, symptoms, and treatments for sexually transmitted infections and the behaviors that increase and decrease the risk of contracting an STI.
5. Describe the principles of effective communication and the specific barriers to effective communication about sex and sexuality.
6. Use an academic sexual vocabulary.
7. Discuss cultural differences in sexual attitudes and behaviors.
8. Identify the occurrence and causes of sexual variations.
9. Identify contraceptive methods and how these methods prevent conception

TEXTBOOK

“Sexuality Today ” by Gary F. Kelly, 11th edition (required) 9th and 10th editions of SEXUALITY TODAY will fulfill the function as well.

INSTITUTIONAL POLICIES:

WITHDRAWAL

If you are unable to complete this course, it is your responsibility to withdraw formally. The withdrawal request must be received in the Registrar’s Office by FEBRUARY 25, 2015 AT 7:00 PM. Failure to do so will result in your receiving a performance grade, usually an “F.” If you drop a class or withdraw from the college before the official drop/withdrawal deadline, you will receive a “W” (Withdraw) in each class dropped. For procedures see the Brookhaven College website and select A-Z for a listing. Students often drop courses when help is available that would enable them to succeed. Please consider a discussion with your instructors if you feel a need to withdraw. Even more importantly, let your instructor know if you are beginning to experience problems with any aspect of your course of study.

STOP BEFORE YOU DROP

For students who enrolled in college level courses for the first time in the fall of 2007, Texas Education Code 51.907 limits the number of courses a student may drop. You may drop no more than 6 courses during your entire undergraduate career unless the drop qualifies as an exception. Your campus counseling/advising center will give you more information on the allowable exceptions. Remember that once you have accumulated 6 non-exempt drops, you cannot drop any other courses with a “W”. Therefore, please exercise caution when dropping courses in any Texas public institution of higher learning, including all seven of the Dallas County Community Colleges. For more information, you may access: https://www1.dcccd.edu/coursedrops

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY POLICY Scholastic dishonesty is a violation of the Code of Student Conduct. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating on a test, plagiarism, and collusion. As a college student, you are considered a responsible adult. Your enrollment indicates acceptance of the Dallas County Community Colleges Code of Student Conduct published in the Brookhaven College Catalog.

Plagiarism is a serious violation of the student code of conduct. With the growth of information technology, students can easily plagiarize sections or entire papers by cutting and pasting from the internet. Any student writing suspected by the instructor will be analyzed by web search services for evidence of plagiarism.

THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT INFORMATION If you are a student with a disability and/or special needs who requires ADA accommodations, please contact your Disability/Special Services office in Room S-124 or call 972-860-4847 on the Brookhaven Campus.

STUDENT ABSENCES DUE TO RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCE: Absences for observance of religious holy days are excused. A student whose absence is excused to observe a religious holy day is allowed to make-up an examination or complete assignments within a reasonable time after the absence.
Students desiring to observe a religious holy day, which results in a class absence, must notify their instructor in writing, for each class, no later than the fifteenth calendar day after the first class day of the semester in which the absence will occur.

REPEATING THIS COURSE: Effective with the Fall 2005 Semester, the Dallas County Community Colleges will charge additional tuition to students registering the third of subsequent time for a course. All third and subsequent attempts of the majority of credit and Continuing Education/Workforce Training courses will result in additional tuition to be charged. Developmental Studies and some other courses will not be charged a higher tuition rate. Third attempts include courses taken at any Dallas County Community Colleges since the Fall 2002 Semester.

RETRIEVING YOUR GRADE AND ECONNECT Grades may be checked on-line through eConnect or by visiting the Advising Center. Specific instructions for obtaining your grades can be found at http://www.brookhavencollege.edu/studentsvcs/grades/

Go the Brookhaven College website and select A-Z and student services to learn about all their services.

STUDENTS RECEIVING FINANCIAL AID: If you are receiving Financial Aid grants or loans, you must show participation in this class prior to the certification date 09//10 by either e-mailing or contacting the instructor or logging on to eCampus. Do not drop or stop attending any class without consulting the Financial Aid office. Changes in your enrollment level and/or failing grades may have adverse consequences. Phone: 972-860-4110.

GENERAL STATEMENT: The instructor reserves the right to modify any course requirements and calendar due dates as necessary to manage and conduct this course online. Students are responsible for contacting the instructor and seeking clarification of any requirement that is not understood.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS:

If your address changes, you must notify the Registrar's office in person or by letter immediately in order to be certain you receive all necessary information. This is important. Also, please inform your instructor.

STUDENT LEARNING REQUIREMENTS

Distance education learners may need to adapt to different study approaches since learning at a distance presents new challenges. In a distance education setting, the process of learning is more complex for several reasons. As a distance student, this might be your first experience with instruction that lacks face-to-face meetings, direct contact with peers, or has fewer opportunities for group interaction. You might even confront technical or other difficulties. However, these differences are not insurmountable. In fact, you may find that distance learning is one of your best educational experiences.

A key to your success as distance learner is a strong motivation to learn. You will also need to be self-disciplined and able to work both independently and as a group member. Study skills particularly important for distance learners (Ekins, 1988) include:

- organizing study time
- maintaining self-discipline
- acquiring necessary working skills
- studying efficiently by reading effectively and taking notes
- completing assignments on schedule
- gaining test-taking skills

If you are motivated, prepared for class, willing to ask questions, familiar with the delivery systems in use, and encouraged and supported by teachers and fellow students, you will be a successful distance learner. Also, support from others, ranging from the instructor to the institution, is essential.

1. Reading & Reviewing

After reading each textbook chapter, go to the text companion web site and review the summary outline and glossary for the chapter. This site also houses multiple forms of review materials for each chapter. These review items are closely related to the material you will need to learn to be successful in this class. This information will also help you in completing the online chapter quizzes that are available on the companion website.

Note: the quizzes are for your review and should NOT be emailed to your instructor. All these support materials will be critical to your preparation and performance on course exams and the required discussion board entries.

2. Class Discussion Board Postings Students will participate in five online discussions, which will be posted under the course Discussion Board Tab. These five discussions will carry a maximum of 20 points each for a total of 100 points for the semester. The discussions are to be addressed in order and should be completed on an average of one every week throughout the semester. I have posted the assignment in the form of a forum prompt and each student is required to respond to the prompt by posting a thread of their own on the discussion board. Remember, this discussion activity requires you to log-in, read all other students’ threads, reply to those threads that most interest you and then to post a thread of your own. You have the ability to edit or remove any thread you post on the discussion board.

The first discussion board is an introduction to the class. Discussion boards 2-5 relate to the four articles available within our course documents tab of eCampus. After reading the article from the documents section that relates to the specific discussion board write and post a discussion thread of a minimum of three paragraphs. Summarize the key points you consider most important. Cite two key facts or ideas in the form of direct quotes from the reading. Explain why these points are significant. Then add what I call a (1+) statement to your thread in the discussion. A (1+) statement demonstrates your critical thinking by going beyond what the author has already told us and adding some new "twist, or take" on the information. The best ways to demonstrate critical thinking and that you are leaning the terms and concepts from the test book is to utilize those terms and concepts in your response section. Be creative, critical thinking requires thinking “outside of the box”

FOLLOW THE ABOVE FORMAT FOR EACH OF THE READINGS FOR DISCUSSIONS 2-5.

In these personal responses you will demonstrate what you’ve learned from the articles in light of your new knowledge base acquired from reading the text chapters. Always read your fellow students postings and comment when you have any additional ideas to share. This is part of your contribution to the collaborative learning.

The class discussions are mandatory. The five discussion activities are detailed in the course syllabus. Go to the discussion tab from the main class website and read each of the activities. When you’re ready start to participate in the discussion, select “add a thread” to post your ideas. Everyone in the class can see that a new thread has been posted and can respond to your thread.

Note: you are able to remove any posting you make in the eCampus system.

The five discussion activities are:

1) Class Discussion ONE - Introductions - tell the class about yourself (Due MIDNIGHT OF SUNDAY 01/25)

2) Class Discussion TWO – Bonobos Sex & Society (Due midnight of SUNDAY, 02/01)
3) Class Discussion THREE – The Five Sexes Revisited (Due midnight of SUNDAY, 02/15)

4) Class Discussion FOUR – Great Expectations (Due midnight of SUNDAY, 03/01)

5) Class Discussion FIVE – In Search of Erotic Intelligence (Due midnight of SUNDAY, 03/15)

5 Discussion Board entries x 20 = 100 points max.

Please note: Students MUST actively participate in all five (20 POINT) discussion forums for a final course grade. A student’s final course grade may be dropped by a full grade point for lack of discussion participation in a timely manner. In addition to posting your entries, responding to other student writings is a required aspect of your contribution to the collaborative learning in this course.

I would ask that each of you try to get these done along through the course. I have set actual timelines for these, but since I do read all of the threads and respond to some of them via private e-mail and in some cases via the public bulletin board, please be timely in your postings. The idea is that this discussion is for the entire class, so don't bunch them up at the end of the term since doing so would make it impossible for others to interact with you in the way planned.

3. Four Examinations Students will take four examinations online through the "Assignment Tab" using the course calendar listed below with all important course assignments. These exams are 90 minute, timed exams. If taken during the "suggested testing period" described in the course calendar below, there will be two alternate forms available for each exam. If after taking an exam (test 1-A) a student is displeased with their score, they may retest, during the suggested testing period, using the second form of the exam (test 1-B). If the retest score is lower than the first testing, the higher of the two grades will be used in the final course point total. If you miss the "suggested testing period" you will only be able to test one time using the first form of the exam. The idea is to give you a chance to see what you don’t know, go study those sections that you haven’t mastered and have another attempt at the material. If you simply take two exams back to back you will find there is very high internal validity within the item pools, i.e. you will not do much better the second time around. You must be prepared to complete these exams when you begin them.

4. 15 QUIZZES - Students will take a quiz over each chapter AFTER they have completed the review of the resource materials for each chapter. It is strongly advised that you take the chapter quiz available on the textbook website before taking the chapter quiz which is worth 10 points. This will insure your doing well on the 10 point quiz.

QUIZZES 1 - 5 - DUE BEFORE SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 01 AT MIDNIGHT

QUIZZES 6 - 9 - DUE BEFORE SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 15 AT MIDNIGHT

QUIZZES 12 - 14 - DUE BEFORE SUNDAY, MARCH 01 AT MIDNIGHT
QUIZZES 15 - 17 - DUE BEFORE SUNDAY, MARCH 15 AT MIDNIGHT

5. PSYCH ARTICLE ANALYSIS - Students will read a pre-selected article and write a 250 word minimum essay in standard written English answering four questions (65 words minimum each) worth 10 points each for a maximum of 40 points.

DUE: SUNDAY, MARCH 08 AT MIDNIGHT.

I've included the power point slides from my lecture sections as supplements under the documents section. These slides cover some concepts that are not in our text and therefore will NOT be part of our exams. Use them as support materials only since they are no substitute for reading the text. These slides are read only and cannot be copied nor saved.

UNLOCKING EXAMS: Make sure you have a dependable Internet connection before opening an exam. If in doubt, go to a public library or the BHC "J" bldg. Computer Lab. If you try to back-page or hit the wrong key you may become locked-out of an exam before you have completed it. I therefore suggest you use only the mouse when testing to avert any mis-strokes on the keyboard that might cause you to be locked-out. A lock-symbol will appear in your grade book if you have become locked-out of an exam You should contact your instructor immediately if a lock-out occurs. Since regular occurrences of this problem could indicate student dishonesty by gaining unfair access to test questions, I will open only two locked exams for a student during the semester before a (10 point per exam) penalty will be accrued. To avoid these problems have a secure internet connection, be careful to not hit back page. Select only the “Save and Submit” tab when you have completed the exam. You will then be asked in another box to confirm your submission. IMPORTANT: The use of the “Save all Answers” tab you may become locked out of the exam and a loss of your test data.

4 Examinations x 100 = 400 points max. Before taking the quiz/exam:

MAKE SURE YOU DO NOT TEST WITH INTERNET EXPLORER 8 or 8.1 BROWSER.

IT IS NOT COMPATABLE WITH E-CAMPUS. DOWNLOAD AN OLDER VERSION OF IE or THE FOXFIRE BROWSER.

- Do not take the quiz until ready.
- Close down all other programs running on the computer. Having multiple programs open may cause problems that result in loss of quiz data.
- Use FireFox or Internet Explorer 6.0 or 7.0 to take the quiz. Other browsers can cause problems.
- Do not resize or refresh the screen after loading the quiz; make sure it is the size you want before going into the quiz. Most browsers refresh the page when you resize the screen. This means it will try to reload the quiz and may prohibit you from taking the test (it will lock you out of the test).

• Do not wait until the last minute to take the quiz. If something goes wrong there won't be enough time to resolve the issue.

• eCampus has a 3-hour login limit. If you have been logged in for a while, you might log out and log back in before taking a quiz, to ensure that you will not get kicked out due to being logged in for more than 3 hours. (Again, this may not seem logical but we didn’t write the software.)

During the quiz/exam:

• When entering the quiz, click the link only once. Sometimes it takes a while to load the quiz. If you click twice, you will get a message saying you already took the quiz and you will be prohibited from completing it.

• Do not use the back and forward buttons while taking a quiz. Instead, use the arrow keys to navigate.
• Do not click on the Submit button until you are either done or have run out of time.

• Click Submit only once; it may take a few moments to receive confirmation of successful submission. Even if it takes longer than you expect, don’t click again. It will be much faster with a single click.

• Fill-in-the-blank questions are case sensitive. Your Faculty will review these types of questions and manually award points accordingly.

• If you are working at home on a dial-up connection, make sure your ISP time-out settings are set to the maximum allowed time.

GRADES

The total points for all required course activities will determine your final semester grade. The grading system is based on the following average points:

GRADING CRITERIA: grades are assigned based on the following point system and participation in all required class activities.

5 DISCUSSION BOARDS @ 20 POINTS EACH = 100 POINTS MAXIMUM

4 EXAMS @ 100 POINTS EACH = 400 POINTS MAXIMUM
15 QUIZZES @ 10 POINTS EACH = 150 POINTS MAXIMUM

PSYCH ARTICLE ANALYSIS = 40 POINTS MAXIMUMUM

-----------------------------------------------

690 POINTS MAXIMUM

GRADE DISTRIBUTION:

For a grade of "A" 690 - 621 points
For a grade of "B" 620 - 552 points
For a grade of "C" 551 - 483 points
For a grade of "D" 482 – 414 points
For a grade of "F" 413 points and below

Course Calendar – The common problem of distance learning students involves managing their time over the term. Students are therefore encouraged to follow the course calendar below and take exams during the "suggested testing period". See note on retesting in the exams section above.
