CLASS INTRODUCTION & ROSTER CERTIFICATION
Always use in the subject line for class & section to identify yourself.

No extension will be allowed. The class work will be done on Webcom and e-campus. You may only take the quiz’s, unit exams and the final one time.

I will use Blackboard as the primary method to post your final grades. I will use Blackboard as the primary source to communicate with the class using the announcements option. Use CarlosMartinez@DCCCD.edu. Use the DCCCD email; Always use in the subject line class & section to identify yourself.

Please check Announcements and E-mails in your e-campus economics course at least once every other day. This is where I will be posting class information.

COURSE MATERIALS

There are two platforms or websites. E-Campus which is the Richland College platform and Webcom where the economics work will be down. Read the following information. It is your responsibility: You must register in the correct class and section in order to receive credit for this class. Use the same name, class & section that are on e-campus.

Macroeconomics: Understanding our Material World, 3rd edition published by Kendall Hunt. Online E-Text Access code can be purchased online at www.grtep.com or through the Richland College bookstore. All of your exams will be on this site

Webcom2 support: websupport@kendallhunt.com, all webcom2 support questions
REQUIRED COURSE MATERIALS:

The above ISBN is for a new hard copy of the text, available from the campus bookstore, which includes an access code on the inside front cover that gives you access to the Webcom Website which will be used in this class. The Webcom site also includes access to the electronic version of the textbook. Your instructor will provide you with additional information regarding the text purchase and access code registration for the Webcom site on the first day of class.

WITHDRAWAL POLICY
If you are unable to complete this course, it is your responsibility to withdraw formally. The withdrawal request must be received in the Registrar’s Office by 07/14/2017 census date to have class taken off your transcript. In order to receive a “W” your request must be received by 08/03/2017. Failure to do so will result in your receiving a performance grade, usually an “F.” If you drop a class or withdraw from the college before the official drop/withdrawal deadline, you will receive a “W” (withdraw) in each class dropped.

CLASS ASSIGNMENTS
Class assignments will be done both online at the WebCOM internet site, e-campus and classroom

COURSE RATIONALE

Economics as a field of study seeks to explore a series of ongoing issues and problems, which confront all of us in our daily lives as producers, consumers, and citizens. Economics seeks to provide some insight into the nature of these issues and problems and suggests possible solutions. When making decisions as producers, consumers, and citizens in the real world, however, we know we must face certain realities, such as limited resources; and the fact that every proposed solution has a cost. Economics seeks to deal with these realities as it pursues an ultimate goal of improving the overall quality of life that people might enjoy. In summary, as you move through this course it is hoped that a better understanding of the way the world "works" will emerge...along with some better ways to achieve an understanding world.

Economics 2301, as part of the Core Curriculum satisfies the following Exemplary Educational Objectives in Economics set forth by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

A. Understanding the methods, technologies, and data that economists use to investigate the human condition.

B. Understanding the development of our economic institutions and processes and how they relate to our political system and culture.

C. Demonstrating the use of and offer critiques for alternative explanatory systems and theories in the principles of macroeconomics course.

D. Understanding and describing alternative explanations and approaches to domestic social issues.

E. Analyzing how historical, social, political, cultural and global issues have an influence on our economy.

F. Understanding the evolution and current macroeconomic role of the U.S. in the world economy.

G. Differentiating and analyze historical evidence (documentary and statistical) and differing points of view in economics.

H. Developing the ability to establish and apply reasonable criteria in determining the acceptability of historical evidence and social research.

I. Analyzing, critically assessing, and developing creative solutions for macroeconomic problems.

J. Being able to apply the macroeconomic principles and theories presented in this course by using the information obtained from the news media and other appropriate sources to evaluate current economic policy as it relates to the current economic and public policy environment.

To complete this course successfully, you should do the following:

Participate in the course orientation activities:
1. On-Line orientation: Follow instructions for online orientation found in the Announcements section.
2. Stay current with eCampus activities: watching regularly for updates, notices and deadlines. Your instructor has the right to make modifications to the course schedule as necessary. All changes and updates will be posted in the e-campus Announcements section. You are responsible for all posted activities and updates.
3. Complete the on-line Pre-Test, Watch the Video, Read the E-Text, on the WebCOM website.
4. Complete the Drill and Practice Exercise
5. Watch the PowerPoint Slides
6. Complete the on-line Lesson tests during the scheduled testing periods
7. After all work for each lesson is completed, complete the Unit test

COURSE FORMAT

There are five components in the learning system for your Principles of Macroeconomics course:

1. Pre-test
2. Video Introduction
3. E-Text
4. Drills and Practices
5. PowerPoint
6. Lesson Quizzes A 10% penalty will be applied for all late quiz’s
7. Unit Tests A 10% penalty will be applied for all late exams
The following Study Sequence will maximize your chances for success in each chapter in this course:

1. Watch the video introductions to get a brief insight about each lesson.
2. Read all the E-Text
3. Do the drills and practices.
4. Review the topics that you did not fully understand by listening to the voice over PowerPoint or go through the non-voice over manually. Contact your Instructor or visit the Economics Lab if you need help.
5. Write an essay or a class assignment. Remember that this is part of your grade!
6. Pay attention to the due dates.
7. Complete the appropriate Lesson and Unit Quizzes after completing your work on the designated set of chapters … and prior to the designated deadline! A 10% penalty will be assessed per unit if the assigned quiz’s are not completed prior to the exam. One attempt per test.
8. Review test results as needed with your Instructor or in the Economics Lab.

HOMEWORK & TESTING
In this course Webcom will be the platform where you will find 4 units with 3 lessons in each—12 lessons total. Please note the assignments that are due for each lesson and unit and the posted deadlines. Lesson and unit assessments are timed. You have 30 minutes to complete each lesson quiz. Please note carefully the instruction when you begin any assignment. The questions for each assignment are randomly generated. When opening a quiz or test, please be prepared to finish it in one setting. Do not attempt to save your work and return to it later. The deadline for each homework or unit test assignment is listed in the course schedule.

SELF-PACED—you may work at your own pace within the individual units only. The next unit will not be available until the preceding one has been finished according to the posted calendar.

Each of the major (unit) tests has a 75 minute time limit. Be sure that you have a “continuous and reliable” internet connection to complete each of these on-line tests (this also applies to the on-line homework). These types of connections (DSL, cable modem, T1, etc.) are available at many college, community, and business locations if one is not available at your residence.

GRADES
Grades for all assignments and tests will be available in the grade book at the course web site or on webcom. Check to be sure your results are properly recorded.

EXTENSION POLICY (applies to ALL assignments and tests). Course assignments must be submitted on-time. No makeup tests or quizzes will be given. If a student is unable to take a scheduled test or quiz, please talk to me before the due date of the assignment. In addition, if a makeup assignment is allowed due to extenuating circumstances, it must be completed in a timely manner determined by the instructor.

EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCES
An extenuating circumstance must be accompanied by legitimate documentation provided on hospital, doctor, or auto repair business letterhead. You must present this documentation and complete your makeup exam within 2 days of your missing the regularly scheduled assignment.

Extenuating circumstances include a death in the family, hospitalization, or car accident. Being sick is not an extenuating circumstance. Doctor’s appointments are not extenuating circumstances. If you miss class for either of these reasons, it will be counted as a normal absence. Please remember that this is a college course and there is no such thing as excused absences in college. If you are not in class, you are absent, regardless of the reason. The only exception to this is if you are absent due to an extenuating circumstance. And only in this case will you be allowed to make up an assignment.

If you qualify for an extenuating circumstance, please immediately contact the instructor. Do not wait for several days or weeks to go by before you get in touch with the instructor. Delaying contact with the instructor may result in adverse consequences (course may end soon; student may be too far behind and need to drop course, etc…).

Writing Assignment:
Write an essay or a class discussion board. (TBA)
