COURSE DESCRIPTION
Econ 2302: Principles of Microeconomics-- This is a Texas Common Course Number. This is a DCCCD Core Curriculum Course. The principles of microeconomics are presented. Topics include the theory of demand, supply, and price of factors. Income distribution and theory of the firm are also included. Emphasis is given to microeconomic applications of international trade and finance as well as other contemporary microeconomic problems. (3Lec.) Coordinating Board Academic Approval Number 4506015125

COURSE RATIONALE
Economics as a field of study seeks to explore a series of ongoing issues and problems, which confront all of us in our daily lives as producers, consumers, and citizens. Economics seeks to provide some insight into the nature of these issues and problems and suggests possible solutions. When making decisions as producers, consumers, and citizens in the real world, however, we know we must face certain realities, such as limited resources; and the fact that every proposed solution has a cost. Economics seeks to deal with these realities as it pursues an ultimate goal of improving the overall quality of life that people might enjoy. In summary, as you move through this course it is hoped that a better understanding of the way the world "works" will emerge...along with some better ways to achieve an understanding world.

Economics 2302, as part of the Core Curriculum satisfies the following Exemplary Educational Objectives in Economics set forth by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

QEP: Richland College is piloting its Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP) in select classes. The QEP provides techniques, practices, and tools to help students develop the habits, traits or behaviors needed to be effective and successful lifelong learners in college and in life. For more information, please log onto http://www.richlandcollege.edu/qep2013/.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

1. Identify the major microeconomic problems confronting the U.S. economy, firms, and consumers.
2. Identify and explain the primary causes of these problems.
3. Identify and explain the principal economic effects of these problems.
4. Demonstrate knowledge of microeconomic theory necessary to think intelligently about these problems.
5. Identify, explain, and justify appropriate policy options for resolving these problems.
6. Evaluate the validity of policies proposed by others for resolving these problems.
7. Succeed in subsequent business courses that require an understanding of microeconomic theory for successful, or enriched, completion.
8. Apply the theory of microeconomics to subsequent courses in the arts, humanities, sciences, and social sciences.

COURSE SUCCESS
To complete this course successfully, you should do the following:

Participate in the course orientation activities:
1. On-Line orientation: Follow instructions for online orientation found in the Announcements section.
2. Stay current with eCampus activities watching regularly for updates, notices and deadlines. Your instructor has the right to make modifications to the course schedule as necessary. All changes and updates will be posted in the e-campus Announcements section. You are responsible for all posted activities and updates.
3. Complete the on-line Pre-Test; Watch the Video, Read the E-Text, on the Webcom website: www.grtep.com
4. Complete the Drill and Practice Exercise
5. Watch the PowerPoint Slides
6. Complete the on-line Lesson tests during the scheduled testing periods
7. After all work for each lesson is completed, complete the Unit test
* You cannot pass the class without completing the work on Webcom.
8. Students are encouraged to discuss academic goals and degree completion with their instructors. Specific advising is available throughout the semester. Check www.richlandcollege.edu/admissions/process.php for more details.
9. It is best to have access to a desk top computer in order to complete your work for this online course
10. It is probably best if you do not have a dial-up connection. If you have a dial-up Internet provider (ISP), you may experience problems when trying to do your on-screen assignments. If these problems persist, you will need to use computers available on campus in the Student Computer Lab. At Richland, the lab is located in Del Rio, room D-229. These computers are free to enrolled students and have excellent high-speed Internet connections.
11. The phone number for Richland College eCampus technical support for students is (972) 669-6402. Another number you may call for technical assistance is 1-866-774-7169 (a toll free number). I am not a computer expert, so for technical issues, please call tech support instead of asking me.
12. Always have a backup plan in case your computer crashes. If you were taking an on-campus class and your car didn’t start, you would catch a bus, get a friend to pick you up, etc. Be sure you have a “Plan B” in case your computer crashes and you have assignments due.
13. Check announcements and the calendar often on e-campus for the latest information

COURSE FORMAT

There are five components in the learning system for your Principles of Microeconomics course:

1. Pre-test
2. Video Introduction
3. E-Text
4. Drills and Practices
5. PowerPoint
6. Lesson Quizzes A 10% penalty will be applied for all late quizzes. A zero will be applied to any quizzes not taken within seven days
7. Unit Tests A 10% penalty will be applied for all late exams, A zero will be applied to any unit exam’s not taken within seven days. You may only take the quizzes, unit exams and the final one time. One attempt per test

The following Study Sequence will maximize your chances for success in each chapter in this course:

1. Watch the video introductions to get a brief insight about each lesson.
2. Read all the E-Text
3. Do the drills and practices.
4. Review the topics that you did not fully understand by listening to the voice over PowerPoint or go through the non-voice over manually. Contact your Instructor or visit the Economics Lab if you need help.
5. Actively participate on the discussion board. Remember that this is part of your grade!
6. Pay attention to the due dates.
7. Complete the appropriate Lesson and Unit Quizzes after completing your work on the designated set of chapters … and prior to the designated deadline!
8. Review test results as needed with your Instructor or in the Economics Lab.

HOMEWORK & TESTING
In this course you will find 4 units with 3 lessons in each—12 lessons total. Please note the assignments that are due for each lesson and unit and the posted deadlines. Lesson and unit assessments are timed. You have 30 minutes to complete each lesson quiz. Please note carefully the instruction when you begin any assignment. The questions for each assignment are randomly generated. When opening a quiz or test, please be prepared to finish it in one setting. Do not attempt to save your work and return to it later. The deadline for each homework or unit test assignment is listed in the Webcom course schedule.

SELF-PACED—you may work at your own pace within the individual units only. The next unit will not be available until the preceding one has been finished according to the posted calendar.

Be sure that you have a “continuous and reliable” internet connection to complete each of these on-line tests (this also applies to the on-line homework). These types of connections (DSL, cable modem, T1, etc.) are available at many college, community, and business locations if one is not available at your residence. For in-class exams it will be announced in class.

Check announcements in e-campus for the schedule of your quiz’s and exams.

EXTENSION POLICY (applies to ALL assignments and tests). Course assignments must be submitted on-time. No makeup tests or quizzes will be given. If a student is unable to take a scheduled test or quiz, please talk to me before the due date of the assignment. In addition, if a makeup assignment is allowed due to extenuating circumstances, it must be completed in a timely manner determined by the instructor.

EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCES
An extenuating circumstance must be accompanied by legitimate documentation provided on hospital, doctor, or auto repair business letterhead. Notes from parents are not considered legitimate documentation. You must present this documentation and complete your makeup exam within 2 days of your missing the regularly scheduled assignment.

Extenuating circumstances include a death in the family, hospitalization, or car accident. Being sick is not an extenuating circumstance. Doctor’s appointments are not extenuating circumstances. If you miss class for either of these reasons, it will be counted as a normal absence. Please remember that this is a college course and there is no such thing as excused absences in college. If you are not in class, you are absent, regardless of the reason. The only exception to this is if you are absent due to an extenuating circumstance. And only in this case will you be allowed to make up an assignment.

If you qualify for an extenuating circumstance, please immediately contact the instructor. Do not wait for several days or weeks to go by before you get in touch with the instructor. Delaying contact with the instructor may result in adverse consequences. (Course may end soon; student may be too far behind and need to drop course, etc…)

ATTENDANCE POLICY
