NOTE: All of the course readings will be offered online as links or files through eCampus.

OFFICIAL COURSE DESCRIPTION:
Texas Common Course Number. This is a DCCCD Core Curriculum course.
Coordinating Board Academic Approval Number 5007035226
Prerequisite Required: College level ready in Reading.

Course Description: This course covers the history of art from the Renaissance through the present. It explores the cultural, geophysical, and personal influences on art styles.
(3 Lec.)

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:
Upon successful completion of this course, students will:
1. Identify and describe works of art based on their chronology and style, using standard categories and terminology.
2. Investigate major artistic developments and significant works of art from the 14th century to the present day.
3. Analyze the relationship of art to history by placing works of art within cultural, historical, and chronological contexts.
4. Critically interpret and evaluate works of art.
COURSE DESIGN & SCHEDULE:
This online class has been organized into eight (8) separate sections called units. Students are expected to complete all assignments and tests for a particular unit in the time allowed. Failure to complete all work for a unit within the deadline for each will result in failing grades for that unit.

TOTAL POSSIBLE POINTS: 1100

The final course grade is determined using the following point scale for each letter grade:

- A = 990-1100
- B = 880-989
- C = 770-879
- D = 650-769
- F = 0-649
WHAT LETTER GRADES MEAN AT THE COLLEGIATE LEVEL:

A = Exemplary work: reads all required texts, works above and beyond in all areas, engaged in class, and asked pertinent questions; shows a mastery of the material beyond class expectations.

B = Good work: participates and is prepared for each class session, understands the concepts and ideas within the class but perhaps needs clarity on certain points.

C = Average work (this is the starting point for all assignments): knows material based on general knowledge, average work, gave enough effort to pass.

D = Passing, But Below Average Work: shows some understanding of material, but misunderstanding of other aspects of the content, missing assignments and tests, did not follow instructions, did not ask questions until assignment was due.

F = Poor work: sub par effort, possibly did not attend or access class for extended periods of time for various reasons, shows little understanding of the course material.

CHECKING GRADES & OBTAINING YOUR GRADES AT THE END OF THE SEMESTER:

All grades are maintained on eCampus in the "My Grades" section.

- Final course grade reports will be made available online via eConnect.
- Federal law (FERPA) prevents me from responding to e-mail or telephone requests for grades, and by law I am only allowed to speak to the student about grades (not a student's family or friends). If your parent calls me to discuss grades, I will tell them I cannot speak with them. It is up to students to speak to me about their grades.

ACADEMIC ETHICS:

Students will be upheld to the highest standards of academic honesty. Instances of academic dishonesty will not be tolerated in this class. Academic dishonesty will result at a minimum in a failing grade on the assignment for which the plagiarism/cheating occurred. Students should be aware of disciplinary actions for all forms of academic dishonesty, including cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, plagiarism, and collusion. Students must read the Plagiarism Statement in the Student Code of Conduct, available online.

Specific to this course, plagiarism includes--but is not limited to--intentionally using the published or unpublished work by another person or persons without full and clear acknowledgment of the original source. Proper acknowledgement of a source involves two things:

- Citing the original source of the information or statement
- Either paraphrasing the statement or placing the verbatim text in quotation marks.

Plagiarism also includes using materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials. Your instructor recognizes that at times students may unintentionally misattribute a passage of text by another author, or cite sources incorrectly. Please speak with the instructor before an assignment is due if you have any questions about how to cite sources or incorporate others' ideas into your writing. Waiting until after the assignment has been turned in will not suffice.

WRITING EXPECTATIONS:

Students are expected to submit their best possible writing and at standards acceptable to college-level work. Proper grammar, spelling, punctuation, sentence structure, and word usage are expected of college-level writing, and terminology from course material and discussions should be employed. For citations in papers for this class, use whichever citation style you are most comfortable with (although the Chicago Manual of Style is commonly used in art history).
TECHNOLOGY & ECAMPUS POLICIES:
In the event of a widespread, unscheduled outage of DCCCD’s eCampus, notify your instructor immediately, particularly if the outage is near a deadline for the class, then contact the eCampus Helpdesk to notify them of the problem and obtain any information.
● In the event of such an unforeseen and lengthy outage, deadlines may be extended, but is based on the instructor’s discretion (based on how widely affected were students, the length of the outage, and, if near a deadline, students’ reasons for being so close to the deadline).
For any problems encountered personally with eCampus or this online course (eg. no widespread outages are reported), contact the eCampus Helpdesk immediately for assistance.
● Be sure to obtain a ticket number for your problem, in case you or the instructor need to reference this in regards to deadlines, etc. Additionally, be sure to notify your instructor of any problems you may be encountering with eCampus, even if isolated to your machine.
Problems specific to your personal computer or technology, be it your computer is not working or your home internet goes down, these are NOT acceptable reasons to ask for an extension or make-up.
● While such events are problematic, a student is advised to move to a different computer, and work from that machine until her or his own can be fixed.

BROOKHAVEN COLLEGE / DCCCD POLICIES & ACADEMIC CALENDAR:
Please use the links below to access and review the college’s policies on a number of important topics and situations. Moreover, use the second link to access a detailed academic calendar:
● Link to Brookhaven Institutional Policies
● Link to the Academic Calendar

ATTENDANCE:
Students are expected to log in to eCampus daily to check their mail and course announcements and plan to fulfill all assignments in the time allowed for each Unit.
● Students are expected to spend at least twelve hours PER week on this course, although considering this is a Maymester class, many more hours will be needed.
● All deadline dates are stated in this syllabus and the course calendar, and with each Unit Lesson information.

CLASS POLICIES & DISCLAIMERS:
● Students are expected to act and perform in a professional, courteous manner in all online communication.
● Asking the instructor questions that are directly and explicitly answered in the syllabus may result in the professor requesting students look in the syllabus.
● If a student needs to drop the course, they must do this themselves; the professor will NEVER automatically drop a student, even for missing large portions of the class. Failure to drop the class may result in a failing course grade.
● When communicating with your professor or fellow classmates, students are expected to include all necessary information in emails and messages expected for a professional environment.
● The professor reserves the right to amend or add to any of these or other class rules throughout the semester, or to modify the syllabus over the course of the semester.
● During the course of this class, some subjects and images may contain violence, nudity, social criticism, and political viewpoints. Any works of art or discussion topics containing imagery of this nature will be used to raise awareness of current or past topics.
