Online Courses
The instruction for this course is entirely online. You will be asked to read texts, watch video clips, listen to audio clips, participate in discussion boards, write essays, and take quizzes—all online. The lessons and instructions are on our eCampus course page, which you should check every week day for announcements and to keep up with the course material. You must have access to the minimal technological requirements (listed on the “Getting Started” page on eCampus) to complete the course requirements, which include completing and submitting assignments in Microsoft Word. You should also have some experience working on a computer, writing emails and essays, and communicating online.

Course Outline
This course has five units. To access each unit, go to the eCampus page for this course, select the left course menu called “Lessons—Assignments,” and begin going through the units. This is not a self-paced course; all of the assignments have due dates, which are outlined in the assignment calendar located on the eCampus course page. Along with the syllabus, be sure to read or view the course orientation, which provides details about completing the assignments. Here is a basic outline of the units and the assignments in each unit:

Unit 1: Yourself as a Writer
This unit lays the groundwork for the reading and writing skills that will be developed throughout the course.
- Discussion Board 1.1
- Writer's Notebook 1.1
- Writer's Notebook 1.2
- Quiz 1.1
- Group interaction 1.1
- Grammar lesson 1.1

Unit 2: How We Use Language
In this unit, we will begin examining our use of language in different contexts. We will learn how voice, audience and purpose influence the way we speak and write to one another.
- Discussion Board 2.1
- Writer's Notebook 2.1
- Writer's Notebook 2.2
- Quiz 2.1
- Group Interaction 2.1
- Grammar lesson 2.1

- A = 90 - 100%
- B = 80 - 89%
- C = 70 - 79%
- D = 60 - 69%
- F = 59% and less

Late Work Policy

Every assignment in this course has a specific due date. These due dates help keep the course running in an organized fashion, provide you time to work on the assignments at a reasonable pace, and allow me to give you feedback on minor assignments before the major assignments are due. Missing the due dates causes problems for both the student and the instructor, so please try to submit work on time.

If you’re having trouble submitting work on time, please let me know ahead of time. I am much more likely to work with you if I am aware of a situation before it becomes a problem in the course. I may also have tips to help you prioritize your time more effectively so that you earn the best grade for the course.

Academic Honesty

Scholastic dishonesty is a violation of the Code of Student Conduct. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating on a test, plagiarism, and collusion. As a college student, you are considered a responsible adult. Your enrollment indicates acceptance of the DCCCD Code of Student Conduct http://www.richlandcollege.edu/conduct.

Plagiarism is using someone else’s words or ideas without giving credit and is a serious academic offense. It can range from:

- Turning in a paper any part of which you did not write;
- Cutting and pasting a paper together from various sources without attributing the sources correctly;
• Changing a few words but basically keeping most of the words and sentence structure of the original;
• Using the ideas of another without giving credit to the person who originally had the idea;
• Using the exact words of the source without using quotation marks even if you give the name of the source.

Note: You must be able to demonstrate that written work submitted is original. This means that it is your responsibility to maintain copies of drafts, notes, and any other materials that can demonstrate the original nature of the writing. If you edit and revise on a computer, it will be necessary occasionally to save drafts of an assignment as it is revised in order to show how the final draft evolved.

Collusion is working with someone so closely on your paper that large sections have been reworded by someone other than you.

Collaboration with others is encouraged in the writing process (getting ideas, planning, revision, editing), but the final paper should be entirely your own writing, and edited mostly by you.

Both plagiarism and collusion are serious academic offenses. Consequences will include the following:

• a performance grade of "0" for the assignment or test,
• documenting the incident in your DCCCD file,
• taking other appropriate disciplinary actions.

More on plagiarism: http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/589/01/

“Recycling”: Papers written for another class, or written in previous semesters, will not be accepted. The purpose of a writing course is to practice your writing. Turning in old work defeats that purpose.

Help with Writing
• The Writing Center is located in Medina 216. There you can receive free tutoring by appointment or on a drop-in basis. Phone: 972-238-6226. More info online at: http://www.richlandcollege.edu/writing/
