COURSE FINAL

STUDY TIPS
The Textbook provides an overview of the historical time periods we will be covering in this course. The Video Lessons provide visual and narrative information, as well as analysis of significant historical developments by some of the nation’s leading professors. In many ways, these videos will serve as a substitute for traditional class lectures.

The following study sequence will maximize your chances for being successful in this course:

1. Read the assigned Textbook Chapters. Every chapter will have their key terms highlighted throughout the text. You will be quizzed on those key terms in the corresponding Chapter Quiz.

2. Watch the assigned Video Lessons paying particular attention to their coverage of the Textbook’s Key Terms to provide you greater insight into them and their historical significance. The videos do not necessarily correspond 1:1 with each Textbook Chapter and a single video may actually cover Key Terms from more than one chapter so please pay attention. The videos provide closed captioning and you can find links to their transcripts in our course on eCampus.

3. Read and select one of the possible documents found within the Unit Assignments Page for each of the Primary Document Analysis (PDA) papers for this Unit. Write and submit the PDA essay for each Unit. Formatting and citation requirements can be found in both the Course Orientation and Assignments section of the course site on eCampus.

4. Participate in the ONLINE DISCUSSION FORUM(s) for the specific Unit.

5. Study the Key Terms for each individual Chapter and take the corresponding Chapter Quizzes comprised of 10 multiple-choice questions worth one (1) point each for a total of 10 possible points.

Your professor is here to help you! However, since we do not meet in regular class sessions, you will have to initiate contact via email and/or telephone. Please do not hesitate to contact your instructor when you have any questions. I generally respond to emails within 24 hours. If you have not heard back from me within 24 hours, please do not hesitate to contact me again as it is likely I never received your initial email.
ASSIGNMENTS

Orientation Quiz: After reading the information contained in this Orientation, especially the Syllabus and Assignment Requirements, take the Orientation Quiz to ensure your understanding of the most important details on how this course functions and my expectations of you this semester. There will be 5 multiple-choice questions worth 2 points each for a total of 10 possible points.

Online Discussions: Participate in five (5) online discussions (Course Introductions and 4 Unit Discussions), which will be posted on the course "Discussion Board" in the appropriate Assignments section for any given unit of study. The Course Introductions post will be worth 10 points and the four Unit Discussion posts will be worth 20 points each for a total of 90 points for the semester. The discussions are intended to help you understand the larger themes of each of the Four Units we will be covering and should be completed by their respective Unit Deadlines. The idea behind these assignments is that beyond your professor getting a measure of your overarching understanding of the unit of study, your classmates will also benefit by reading your observations and arguments. Because of this, it is critical you post your responses in a timely manner. Late submissions will face serious point deductions relative to how far from their respective deadlines they are posted. For every Unit Discussion, I will post a discussion forum prompt and each student is required to respond in writing and follow the stated guidelines. Your grade will be based upon your initial post. Responding to others discussion posts is not a requirement to receive full credit for this assignment. However, should your initial post not meet my expectations to receive full credit, I will consider any and all responses you make to your classmates' posts in assigning your grade. Each Discussion Board has a scoring rubric available for you to view to understand how your submission is being evaluated and assignment grade determined. Since I do read all of the threads and respond to some of them through private e-mail and in some cases via the public forum, the idea once again is that this discussion is for the entire class - so please complete them by their appropriate deadlines.

Essays: You are required to submit ONE Primary Document Analysis (PDA) essays for each of the first Three Units (three papers total). The possible documents for these papers will be posted in the PDA Essay section of each Unit Assignment page. For each PDA, you are to select a single document from those provided to you. The papers will be submitted in appropriate location within the eCampus course site (and processed through SafeAssign to ensure the integrity of your work) and are due by the respective Unit Deadlines for Units I-III. Each of the (3) three required essays is worth 50 points for a total of 150 possible points this semester. Each PDA has a unique scoring rubric available for you to view to understand how your submission is being evaluated and assignment grade determined. The formatting and citation requirements for these assignments can be found within both the Orientation Section and the PDA Essay section within an individual Units Assignments Page found through the menu on the course homepage. Grammar and spelling will certainly be considered when your paper is graded. Cite any sources you use in your paper (ie…book, article, website, etc.). Failure to do so can result in a charge of plagiarism, which has serious consequences beyond simply failing the assignment. Plagiarism can also lead to failure of the entire course, being placed on academic probation, and in some cases expulsion from the college. If you have any questions, please contact the professor prior to submission.

Textbook Chapter Quizzes: Students will take scheduled multiple-choice quizzes based upon the “Key Terms” highlighted throughout each of the sixteen chapters we will cover in the Textbook (Chapters 1-15). The Chapter Quizzes will be divided into their appropriate Units of study as outlines in this syllabus and elsewhere. Students will take these quizzes online through the appropriate Unit Assignments page on the eCampus course site. Each quiz will include 10 questions worth one (1) point each for a total of ten (10) possible points (150 possible points for all 15 Quizzes). You will have 15 minutes to answer the 10 multiple-choice questions. The deadlines for all the Chapter Quizzes within a given unit of study will be the stated Unit Deadline. Students will be given TWO attempts for each Chapter Quiz with the highest score of the two counting towards your final point total. Please be aware that the Chapter Quizzes will not be made available past their respective deadlines and will not be reopened for any students under any circumstances.
Course Final: Students will submit a final exam at the conclusion of this course. The exam (worth 100 possible points) will be comprised of answering a series of essay questions surrounding a reading of selected primary source documents and submitting your responses on the eCampus course site. Specific formatting requirements and other details relating to the final will be provided at least one week prior to the due date on the course site. The Course Final has a scoring rubric available for you to view to understand how your submission is being evaluated and assignment grade determined. As this is a “final” for the course, my expectations will be much higher than for the earlier PDA Assignments in terms of length of responses and depth of your analysis of these documents. Once the deadline for the final has passed, the assignment will no longer be available to submit on eCampus and students will receive a zero (0) for this grade.

Extra Credit: A total of Twenty-Five (25) Extra Credit Points are possible to earn in this course by completing ALL UNIT IV assignments (including the Course Final) by the stated deadline.

Final Course Grades:
Final grades are based upon a 500 possible point scale with any Extra Credit added to your final point total:
A = 450-500+ total points
B = 400-449
C = 350-399
D = 300-349
F = 0-299

Unit IV Deadline August 5, 2019 for Early Completion Bonus
Unit IV Deadline August 7, 2019 (by midnight)
Unit IV Discussion, Textbook Chapter Quizzes 13-15, Course Final

Grading Timelines: Students should expect written work (discussion board posts and PDA essays) for each of the first three Units to be graded and posted in the gradebook with the appropriate scored rubric and any relevant comments within two weeks following a Unit Deadline. For flex-term (shorter length) courses, students should expect their written work to be graded and scored rubrics with any relevant comments posted prior to the next Unit Deadline. If circumstances prevent me from meeting this goal, please look for an announcement to be posted outlining a revised grading timeline.

MAKE-UP POLICY: All assignments will be made available during the first week of the course. This should give you ample time to submit the assignments for any Unit. In extreme circumstances, arrangements can be made for an extension ONLY on the Online Discussion and PDA assignments with appropriate late penalties for Units 1-3. However, THE DEADLINES FOR THE CHAPTER QUIZZES AND ALL UNIT IV ASSIGNMENTS CANNOT BE EXTENDED.
INSTITUTIONAL POLICIES:
Please click the following link to see relevant information concerning institutional policies that affect you as a student at Brookhaven College. This includes current information regarding the Drop/Withdrawal Policy, a statement on Financial Aid, International Students, Religious Holidays, and the ADA. You will also find general statements on Academic Integrity and the Student Code of Conduct, Repeating Courses, Grade Reports, and FERPA. Click HERE or https://www.brookhavencollege.edu/syllabusaddendum

WITHDRAWAL DATE: Tuesday, July 30, 2019
SPECIAL NOTE FOR STUDENTS WITH FINANCIAL AID
Please be aware that a failure to participate in the course following the Withdrawal Deadline will result in you being assigned an “N” instead of an “F” which can have serious repercussions for your eligibility for Financial Aid now and in the future. For this course, Non-Participation will be determined if a student FAILS to submit ALL Unit IV Assignments (including the Course Final) prior to the final course deadline.

ACADEMIC HONESTY
I expect all original work from my students, even if you have attempted this course before and have previously written assignments that would meet the requirements for this course. Replicated assignments will automatically receive a zero (0).

Plagiarism will not be tolerated in any form in this course. The first submitted assignment that is found to be plagiarized will receive an automatic zero (0). Any subsequent examples of plagiarism will result in a zero (0) for ALL assignments within that specific Unit of study. Plagiarizing the Course Final will not only result in a zero (0), but a forfeiture of all extra credit received in the course. Three or more examples of plagiarism may result in automatically failing the course and/or other disciplinary actions.

DISTANCE LEARNING SERVICES
If you need general information, please contact the Dallas Colleges Online. Please visit them HERE or at the following url:  http://online.dcccd.edu/

STUDENT EMAIL AND CHANGE OF ADDRESS
Legal privacy issues prevent me from discussing your work or your grades on commercial email accounts. If you wish to send your papers as attachments to an email, or if you have a question about your grade, you must open a DCCCD student email account. The account is free. You may set it up by going to www.dcccd.edu and clicking on Services & Resources, Online Tools & Resources, and DCCCD Student Email.

Notify the campus admissions office (in person or in writing) to change your address where you are enrolled. You receive grade cards, and other important information through the mail. It is extremely important that your phone number is accurate so that your instructor can contact you when necessary.
