CLASS PARTICIPATION is an important component of this course. Your participation/attendance in this course is essential to the success of the learning experience. I expect you to be present during each class meeting, to arrive when class begins and to stay until class is over. As an incentive to attend regularly, you will receive a participation grade for the semester. If you have more than three unexcused absences, regardless of the cause(s), you will not be allowed to pass the course. It is your responsibility to keep up with information discussed in class when absent. (Please make a friend in class and cover for each other.) An excused absence will not deduct points from your participation grade. These are defined as illness, family death, school-sponsored activity, or approved religious holiday- however, please be prepared to provide appropriate documentation if requested.

CLASSROOM REQUIREMENTS

A. It is expected that you will develop an ethical framework to guide communication interactions.
B. There will be neither make-up speeches, nor exams for unexcused absences.
C. All exams will be taken online with certain guidelines to be discussed.
D. I expect you to be on time for class and stay until class is over. However, if it is an emergency, let me know and we can likely work around it.
E. Three unexcused, late arrivals will equal one unexcused absence.
F. You will receive a thorough description of requirements for all formal assignments before they are due. All assignments done outside of class must be TYPED, double-spaced, with appropriate margin, and a font size between 11-12 points to receive credit (e.g., papers, outlines, etc.). Your bibliographies will be in MLA or APA format in accordance with the latest edition.
G. It is your responsibility to engage in behavior that is respectful and supportive during classroom instruction and interaction this also means listening attentively to your fellow classmates when they are delivering their speeches. (See Student Code of Conduct).
H. Please do not enter the classroom if a student is giving a speech. Wait outside and when the speech is over, you may come into the classroom.
I. Speeches will be recorded by the instructor.
J. Cell phones must be turned off during speeches.
K. Students are expected to behave as adults in a college-appropriate manner. These expected behaviors include punctuality, participation in activities, and positive contribution to the work at hand. Behaviors such as habitual or excessive tardiness, sleeping in class, and excessive talking during instruction or verbal attacks will result in loss of daily participation points. Additionally, after one private warning from the instructor regarding disruptive behavior from individual students, the instructor may elect to refer the student to the Dean of Students AND that student will not be allowed to return to the class until a meeting with the Dean of Students has taken place and appropriate decisions have been made.
L. Incompletes* require that you have a minimum grade of "C" and have a minimum of 70% of the course assignments completed. Incompletes are an option in cases of extreme emergency only and given at the instructor's discretion.
