Course Prerequisites
There are two types of prerequisites: 1.) Recommended and 2.) Required.

Recommended prerequisites for Art Majors, Arts 1311, Arts 1312, Arts 1316, and Arts 1317. Developmental Reading 0093 or English as a Second Language (ESOL) 0044 or have met the Texas Success Initiative (TSI) standard in reading.

Required prerequisites include courses(s) a student must complete before registering for a specific course and must be met at the point of registration.

Prerequisites are usually introductory courses that students must have successfully completed in order to take certain college courses. For example, students must provide proof of successful completion of ENGL 1301 to be eligible to enroll in ENGL 1302. A prerequisite may also be a specific score on tests such as TSI, STAAR, TAKS, ACT or SAT.

Often prerequisites may be met by transferring in a course from another college. Therefore, students are strongly encouraged to turn in their official transcripts early to the Admissions Office in order for the transcript(s) to be evaluated, and posted to their academic record in the automated student system.

If you are unable to register for a course there may be several reasons, such as:

- The Registrar’s office has not received your official transcript or test scores; or
- The Registrar’s office received your official transcript, but it has not been evaluated yet; or
• The minimum grade requirement was not met on your required prerequisite(s).

Contact your college admissions office if you believe any of the reasons listed above may have occurred.

Many technical courses have specific skill levels that must be achieved in order to enroll in a more advanced technical course. These skills are evaluated solely by the professor teaching the course.

Students are expected to either successfully complete courses or meet assessment standards in order to meet the required course prerequisites. The college reserves the right to administratively withdraw students who have not met the specific required course prerequisites. In such cases, students may register for another course.

Note: This course uses Ecampus heavily. Students are required to access material and upload files throughout the semester – failure to perform certain Ecampus-tasks will affect earned grades even though work was completed in the studio. During the course of this class, some topics and or images may be considered offensive. It is not the intent of this class, instructor, or the school to offend, only to make the student aware of current and or past topics that have generated much exposure and or attention to the public and private forum.

Grading Policy

Grade Calculations: The course is based on the averaging of individual grades system where each grade earned will be averaged at the end of the semester and translates to a letter grade.

A= Above average effort = excellence; work is turned in on time with an evident attempt of doing the assignment very well. The work shows evidence of investigation and effort. Followed instructions and directions. Presentation is neat and well executed.

B = Good, solid work, even outstanding at times and certainly above average. Missing one or 2 required elements or ideals. Display of knowledge but did not apply covered techniques.

C = Average and adequate. Full fills the requirement but lacks the effort and quality= missing more than 2 required elements or ideals.

D / F = Substandard, missing required elements/formats, instructions not followed, incomplete work, no display of reediness for the next level of assessment or progression, possibly did not access class for extended periods of time for various reasons = "F's" do happen in a student's career- but are preventable and recoverable (after a while) - but.. learn from the experience and make adjustments

A collection of zeros in any area affects your grade the same and can be damaging to the total earned letter grade for the course. Be careful.

Note: The eCampus Grade Center total column is a running total average of completed grades – as graded and or missed assignments are calculated throughout the semester, the running grade will update.

Performance in this class will be measured by:

1. Participation in all activities related to this class.
2. Meeting due dates and assigned times for all assignments, class activities, and project evaluations.
3. Graded assignments, evaluated with grading sheets that describe the criteria for evaluation and grading.
4. His/her improvement from the beginning of the semester to the end.
5. His/her ability to use new words in critiques.
6. His/her ability to openly, honestly express themselves about works of art and the creative process through the use of course methodology.
7. Students are expected to attend all scheduled critiques. Critique is an important exercise in all studio environments and is for the benefit of the student. ALL absences during critiques will be considered unexcused and a student will receive a zero for that portion of class.
8. The student is responsible for tracking his or her own course grade. All assignments will be returned as quickly as possible to allow the student proper course grade during the semester.
9. Evaluating art studio class work is a subjective task. The instructor’s judgments are as unbiased as humanly possible: experience, quality, use of materials, knowledge of art history, expectations, overall class performance, and individual performance, are all factors considered during the grading process.
Meeting these measures will involve the following:

1. Produce a portfolio reflecting in-class and outside assignments.
2. Regular class attendance.
3. Participation in class critiques.
4. Bring in sketchbook assignments.
5. Meet the requirements of the grading scale.

Other Course Policies

Attendance/Participation Policy

1. Do not expect this course to take less time than any other class, we require that you be in attendance for 16 weeks. In addition, you would need to devote many additional hours to working outside of class to complete assignments. All absences that occur during a graded assignment require a written excuse. Messages for excused absences are only valid prior to the class time of the absence. In case of extreme emergency a message after-the-fact will count as excused.
2. Recorded daily grades will occur throughout the semester. Students must be working on their assignments every time when in the studio/lab. A daily grade documenting performance will be recorded every session. Not working in class or not doing something productive will result in reduced points. 1 or more zeros will drop a grade significantly.
3. Watch tardies important information is given from the beginning of class to end – most of the time the information will not be repeated.
4. If you miss 4 or more classes your performance and grade will decrease 10pts on its own! Class is almost 3 hours of work- thus to make up a missed class you will have to practice 3x the number of days missed outside of class on your own!
5. Leaving class early on a consistent basis, more than once during a week is NOT acceptable. Please plan accordingly.
6. It is your responsibility to attend class, complete assignments and submit them on time, and to notify the teacher in case of illness, accident or family crisis. Documentation is required. If you know that you are going to miss class, then turn in any work due on the day you will miss before that day.
7. You are responsible for any material presented or due during class on days that you are not here.
8. Final exam attendance is Mandatory. No excused absences will be given for this date. If you cannot be here for the final, please rethink taking this class!
9. If you have vacation, or other activities planned during the course times and days, where you know you will be out of town on class days, then you must clear your absence with the teacher before the 3rd day of class. (Only two days will be allowed.)

10. Work related travel will be excused, IF I am notified prior to, or immediately after, the trip. Even more than two (2) days absence may be a problem, so talk to me early!

11. Illness or emergencies require a call on the day of the absence.

12. In ALL cases or events, ALL assignments, lectures and class work missed are your responsibility whether you are here or not.

13. In case of illness or emergency, the assignments must be turned in two days after your return.

14. In case of planned trips or absences, the assignments must be turned in either before your absence or within one day of return.

Students are expected to attend all classes in which they are enrolled. It is the responsibility of the student to consult with the instructor when it is necessary for the student to be absent from the class. Like many studio classes, success in this class depends to a great extent on physical facility gained through regular repetition collaboration with the instructor. Therefore, your attendance will directly and indirectly determine your grade.

A note on holidays. I do not recommend taking off more than 1 week if you are following the printable calendar. Traveling and not having a computer - is not a legitimate reason for not completing all assignments.

Late Work Policy

Unfortunately, computer problems are not an acceptable excuse for not completing or turning in your work or your tests. Give yourself plenty of time. Be sure not to leave your assignments to the last minute. If you have a computer problem, go to another computer (ask a family member or friend, go to a library, college, or cyber cafe that allows you internet access.) The El Centro College Library and college computer lab has internet accessible computers for your use.

Late work will not be accepted except for a medical or personal emergency. In fairness to the rest of the class, the instructor must be notified immediately, and the student prepared to submit appropriate documentation related to the situation.

Emergency make-up assignments to replace a missed assignment can only be assigned by the instructor.

Communication Policy

Please note: We are in a professional setting : In all forums in class and communication here in general = please address each other and myself formally = meaning use - hello - thanks - please - and type using structured sentences in any communication on this site and emails. Communication styles and formats used in arenas such as Facebook - text messaging - general blogs - etc- is not classroom/college etiquette. Communicate at all times as if you were facing me in a classroom on campus - I will do the same. DCCCD, ECC, the Arts and Sciences Division, are intolerant of disruptions that impede the learning and teaching process.

ADA Considerations

If you are a student with a disability and/or special needs who requires accommodations, please contact the college Disability Services Office at 214.860.2411 ASAP (Voice/TTY), visit A110, or go to Link to Disability Services.

Without official notification from the DSO, the instructor must treat all students the same with no special privileges given to one student: i.e. extended testing time, extended due dates, or extended-special assistance, etc. It is up to the student to seek appropriate assistance outside of the classroom and give ample time to the instructor for preparing such accommodations after the official notification of the situation.

Dropping a course

It is up to a student to keep track of the last date to drop a course (verify your course drop date by checking your "My Class" dates in Econnect). Only a student can initiate and complete the withdraw-process. It can be completed online using Econnect.
