Late Work Policy

Every assignment in this course has a specific due date. As a rule, late work will not be accepted unless the student can document an emergency situation.

Academic Honesty

Scholastic dishonesty is a violation of the Code of Student Conduct. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating on a test, plagiarism, and collusion. As a college student, you are considered a responsible adult. Your enrollment indicates acceptance of the DCCCD Code of Student Conduct http://www.richlandcollege.edu/conduct.

Plagiarism is using someone else’s words or ideas without giving credit and is a serious academic offense. It can range from:

- Turning in a paper any part of which you did not write,
- Cutting and pasting a paper together from various sources without attributing the sources correctly,
- Changing a few words but basically keeping most of the words and sentence structure of the original,
- Using the ideas of another without giving credit to the person who originally had the idea.
- Using the exact words of the source without using quotation marks even if you give the name of the source.

Note: You must be able to demonstrate that written work submitted is original. This means that it is your responsibility to maintain copies of drafts, notes, and any other materials that can demonstrate the original nature of the writing. If you edit and revise on a computer, it will be necessary occasionally to save drafts of an assignment as it is revised in order to show how the final draft evolved.

Collusion is working with someone so closely on your paper that large sections have been reworded by someone other than you.

Collaboration with others is encouraged in the writing process (getting ideas, planning, revision, editing), but the final paper should be entirely your own writing, and edited mostly by you.

Both plagiarism and collusion are serious academic offenses. Consequences will include the following:

- a performance grade of "0" for the assignment or test,
- documenting the incident in the your DCCCD file,
- taking other appropriate disciplinary actions.

“Recycling”: Papers written for another class, or written in previous semesters, will not be accepted. The purpose of a writing course is to practice your writing. Turning in old work defeats that purpose.

Course Schedule
This course has five units. To access each unit, go to the eCampus page for this course, select the left course menu called “Lessons—Assignments,” and begin going through the units. This is not a self-paced course; all of the assignments have due dates, which are outlined in the assignment calendar located on the eCampus course page. Along with the syllabus, be sure to read or view the course orientation, which provides details about completing the assignments. Here is a basic outline of the units and the assignments in each unit:

Unit 1: Yourself as a Writer
This unit lays the groundwork for the reading and writing skills that will be developed throughout the course.
- Discussion Board 1.1
- Writer's Notebook 1.1
- Writer's Notebook 1.2
- Quiz 1.1
- Group interaction 1.1
- Grammar lesson 1.1

Unit 2: How We Use Language
In this unit, we will begin examining our use of language in different contexts. We will learn how voice, audience and purpose influence the way we speak and write to one another.
- Discussion Board 2.1
- Writer's Notebook 2.1
- Writer's Notebook 2.2
- Quiz 2.1
- Group Interaction 2.1
