

CHARLES P. WALDROP

ADJUNCT FACULTY VITA-AUGUST 2017

EDUCATION:

University of Wisconsin. Madison-Bachelor of Arts-With Distinction- History and Economics, 1969

George Washington University, Washington, DC-Master of Science in Administration, Procurement and Management- With Honors, 1974

TEACHING EXPERIENCE:

Dallas County Community College, Bill J. Priest Institute, North Texas Small Business Development Center, Government Contracting Orientation, 1999-2017

Letourneau University, Dallas Center, Adjunct Business Instructor in Management and Entrepreneurship, 2000-2006

University of San Diego, San Diego, CA, Adjunct Business Instructor in Graduate/undergraduate supply management, 1993-97

National University, San Diego, CA, Adjunct Business Instructor in Management, 1991-97

Biola University, La Mirada, CA, Adjunct Business Instructor in Management, 1993-1997

University of California, San Diego, Adjunct Business Instructor in Management and Purchasing, 1993-1997

PUBLISHED WORKS:

BUILDING THE AUTHENTIC CHURCH, Published book, 2004

“The Conquest of Sam Houston”, American History Illustrated, among others (15 articles in print), 1987