

Jill Rene Burks Wallace
972-523-1335 (cell/text)
jwallace@dcccd.edu
SKYPE jill.wallace1335

Education

Texas Woman's University - Denton

- 1979 - Bachelor of Science - Major: Biology, Minor: Education
- 1983 - Master of Science - Major: Biology, Minor: Education
Professional Paper: Diagnosis and Prognosis of Neural Tube Defects

North Texas State University - Denton

- 1986-1987- Post-graduate studies in Educational Law

Professional Experience

Aug. 2013-current: Adjunct Professor, El Centro College – Dallas Community College District; teaching BIOL 1408 and 1409, Biology for Non-Majors; BIOL 1406, Biology for Majors

1984-2005, and Feb. 2008-May 2011: Adjunct Professor, North Lake College – Dallas Community College District

Subjects taught: Biology (Majors and Non-majors), Second year Anatomy and Physiology (2401/2402)

Summer I/II, 1992: Adjunct Professor, Collin County Community College – Allen campus; Second year Anatomy and Physiology

Fall 1992: Adjunct Professor, Tarrant County Community College – Northwest campus; Second year Anatomy and Physiology

Professional Development

- Attended the (Texas) Conference for the Advancement of Science Teaching (CAST) as both a participant and/or workshop presenter 15 of my 35+ years in teaching
- 1979 –present: Attended all NSTA National conferences held in Dallas/Fort Worth, Texas
- Regularly attend (2-4 evenings per year) STARS Science Symposia at University of Texas Southwestern Medical school

Recognition

1994 - Adjunct Faculty of the Year – North Lake College

Professional Associations

- Science Teachers Association of Texas (STAT)
- Texas Association of Biology Teachers (TABT)
- National Science Teachers Association (NSTA)