

Curriculum Vitae

Kendra Vaglienti
Brookhaven College
3939 Valley View Lane
Farmers Branch, TX 75244
972-860-4332
kvaglienti@dcccd.edu

Education

Texas A&M University, College Station, TX
B.A. in English

Sam Houston State University, Huntsville, TX
M.A. in English

Texas Woman's University, Denton, TX
63 post-graduate hours in English (ABD)

Teaching Experience

Brookhaven College, Farmers Branch, TX, August 2004 – Present
Dean/Adjunct Faculty—Freshman Composition, American Literature

Brookhaven College, Farmers Branch, TX, January 2000 – August 2004
Full-time Faculty—Developmental Writing, Developmental Reading, Freshman Composition, American Literature

Texas Woman's University, Denton, TX, August 1996 – December 1999
Graduate Teaching Fellow—Developmental Writing, Freshman Composition, American Literature, Women's Literature

Brookhaven College, Farmers Branch, TX, August 1996 – December 1999
Adjunct Instructor—Developmental writing, Developmental Reading

Sam Houston State University, Huntsville, TX, January 1995 – August 1996
Graduate Teaching Assistant—Developmental Writing

Washington Junior High, Conroe, TX, August 1994 – May 1995
Student Teaching Assistant—English

Papers and Presentations

"Scheduling for Student Success," October 2009
Presenter at DCCCD Developmental Studies Summit, Dallas, TX

"Creating Collaborative Teaching and Learning Environments," May 2009
Presenter at NISOD Annual Conference, Austin, TX

“How F.A.S.T. Can Students Achieve Their Dreams?” February 2008
Presenter at the Achieving the Dream Strategy Institute, Atlanta, GA

“Communications Conducive to Academic Success,” February 2006
Presenter at the National Association for Developmental Education, Philadelphia, PA

“Noose around My Neck,” April 2000
Scholar for the Dream at the Conference on College Composition and Communication, Minneapolis, MN