

Natalie A. Mills-Moore
801 Main St., Dallas, Tx 75202
972-600-6574
nmills-moore@irvingisd.net

Education

University of Texas – Medical Branch, Galveston, Tx (August 2013)
Categorical Certification in Microbiology – M(ASCP)

Southern Illinois University – Carbondale, Springfield, Il (May 2010)
Master of Science of Molecular Biology, Microbiology, Biochemistry

University of Texas at Austin, Austin, Tx (May 2008)
Bachelor of Science of Microbiology

Experience

Jack E. Singley Academy Irving, Tx

Teacher – Medical Terminology, Nutrition and Wellness, Biology Dual Credit

- Developed syllabus and overall structure, performed a weekly lab for Biology, and administered all grades

MoldLab, Ltd. Carrollton, Tx

Technician

- Answer client calls and questions, greet customers
- Log-in multiple sample types for laboratory analysis
- Analyze samples for the presence of mold spore and fungal elements; Identify to species level
- Generate reports

Dallas County Community College District Farmers Branch, Tx

Adjunct Instructor - Anatomy and Physiology 1

- Followed developed syllabus only changing items to fit the specialized schedule, performed a weekly lab, and administered all grades.

Medfusion Clinical Laboratory Lewisville, Tx

Medical Technologist in Infectious Disease

- Perform daily plates reads for several infectious disease laboratory sections including those designated Biosafety Level III
- Use multiple systems (Vitek, Microscan, Cepheid) to identify and provide susceptibility information for infectious organisms
- Daily use of different reporting softwares
- Communicate directly with clients