Professional Experience

Throughout my professional experience, I have supported the transitional stages of individuals, couples, and families. I have conducted different types of assessments and associated reports using my clinical judgment to determine the most effective means of treatment in conjunction with the clients to whom I was attending. My experience has spanned different social service and community organizations. I am currently the co-owner of a private practice and contract with another practice for individual, couple, and family therapy. I am also licensed to provide clinical supervision to Licensed Professional Counselor Interns.
